DEAR SIR,—The undersigned respectfully reports to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

That the appropriation for Legislative Printing and Binding has become exhausted.

That the vouchers for printing up to the present time show a balance due the contractors of $2,899.13.

The undersigned therefore respectfully requests that authority be given the Honourable the Provincial Treasurer, under the Act R.S.O. 1887, cap. 21, sec. 20, to pay the accompanying certificate, viz., $2,899.13.

I have the honour to be,

Your obedient servant,

(Sgd.) LUD K. CAMERON,
Queen's Printer.

C. H. SPROULE, Esq.,
Provincial Auditor.

Education—Superannuated Teachers..... 2,581 00

TORONTO, June 30th, 1900.

The undersigned respectfully reports to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council that the sum appropriated for the sub service of "Superannuated Teachers" is exhausted with the exception of a small balance of $25.50, which will be required for printing, and accountable warrant petty expenses accounts, already incurred. As it is expedient that the allowances of certain worn out teachers, still unpaid, should be forwarded without delay, the undersigned respectfully recommends that authority be given under the Act, R.S.O., 1897, Chap. 23, section 20, for appropriating the farther sum of $2,581, to meet the payment of the pensions enumerated in the accompanying certificates.

(Sgd.) R. HARCOURT,
Minister of Education.

Public Institutions Maintenance : Kingston, L.A..... 1,716 52

do Mercer Reformatory..... 1,844 96

TORONTO, 26th December, 1900.

SIR,—I beg to report that, owing to the extra amount of coal expected to be required in consequence of the installation of electric lighting in the Asylum for the Insane, Kingston, the maintenance account has been overdrawn to the amount of $1,716.52.

Had it been known earlier in the year that the electric appliances would not be placed in the institution until the present time, it would not have been necessary to have purchased this coal, but while the amount is an overdraft upon this year's expenditure it will be so much less coal required to be purchased next year.

I would therefore recommend the issue of a Treasury Board warrant for the said sum of $1,716.52, to cover the outlay for the current year.

Your obedient servant,

R. OHRISTIE,
Inspector.

O. H. SPROULE, Esq.,
Provincial Auditor,
Toronto.

SIR,—I beg to report that the appropriation for maintenance of the Andrew Mercer Ontario Reformatory for Women for the current year has, owing to the large increase in the number of inmates, proved insufficient, and the sum of $1,844.96 is required to pay the December accounts.

I would therefore respectfully recommend that authority be given under the Act R. S. O. 1897, cap. 23, sec. 20, for payment of the above amount.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Approved

(Sgd) J. R. STRATTON,
Provincial Secretary.

Inspector.

TORONTO, January 16, 1901.

SIR,—I beg to report that the spring upon which the Orillia Asylum depends for its water supply, unexpectedly failed during the last summer and autumn months to meet the daily needs of the Institution, and the well which was authorized to be bored to increase the supply, has been completed, having obtained at a depth of 220 feet a large additional yield of water amply sufficient for all necessary requirements. The contractors for boring the well, James Peat & Sons, have applied for payment of $700 on account, which is less than the total amount of the contract, and this expenditure being unforeseen and unprovided for, I would therefore recommend that authority be given under the Act R. S. O. 1897, chapter 23, section 20, for payment of above amount.

I have the honour to be,

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF CROWN LANDS FOR THE YEAR 1900.

To His Honor the Honorable SIR OLIVER MOWAT, G. C. M. G., Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOR :

In compliance with the law, I have the honor to submit for your information and that of the Legislative Assembly, a report on the management of the Crown Lands of the Province of Ontario for the year ending 31st December, 1900.

CROWN LANDS.

The area of Crown lands sold during the year was 65,996 acres, having a total value of $91,837.08. On account of these sales and those of former years there was collected the sum of $68,861.43. Under the provisions of the Mines Act for the leasing of Crown lands for mining purposes, there were leased 27,835 acres, and the rental received for same and lands already under lease amounted to $69,714.41.

The total collections on account of Crown lands sold and leased were $138,575 84. See Appendix No. 3, page 4.

CLERGY LANDS.

The area of Clergy lands sold during the year was 1,096 acres, having a value of $601.00. The amount collected on these and former sales was $4,271.30. See Appendix No. 3, page 4.

COMMON SCHOOL LANDS.

The area of Common School lands sold during the year was 210 acres, with a value of $836.50. The amount collected on account of these and former sales was $13,512.45. See Appendix No. 3, page 4.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL LANDS.

There were sold during the year 45 acres of Grammar School lands, having a value of $180.00. The amount collected on account of these and former sales was $2,407.45. See Appendix No. 3, page 4.

RAILWAY LANDS.

The collections on account of lands sold under the Railway Aid Act, 52 Victoria, chapter 35, amounted to $152.10. See Appendix No. 3, page 4.

UNIVERSITY LANDS.

The area of University lands sold and leased was 4,336 acres, having a value of $3,782.13. On account of these sales and lands previously sold and leased there was collected the sum of $2,708.14. See Appendix No. 3, page 4.

COLLECTIONS AND REVENUE.

The total collections of the Department on account of all sources of revenue were $1,447,949.78. See Appendix No. 4, page 5.

DISBURSEMENTS.

The total disbursements of the Department for the year were $272,257.66. This includes $24,682.38 paid on surveys, and refunds amounting to $38,072.45. It also includes the sum of $93,690.93, expended on special services under the direction of the Department, such as Diamond Drill $9,208.98 ; Mining Schools, $19,200.00 ; Iron Mining Act, $12,765.82 ; Explorations in Northern Ontario, $34,507.58 ; Emigration, $6,257.46 ; Colonization, $3,243.17 ; Provincial Parks, $8,507.92. See Appendices 6 and 7, pages 17 and 18.

FREE GRANTS.

During the year the townships of Marks and Strange, in the District of Thunder Bay, Burriss in the District of Rainy River, Lyell in the District of Nipissing, and Jones in the County of Renfrew, five townships in all, were appropriated for settlement under the Free Grants and Homesteads Act, so that there are now 168 townships open for settlement under this Act. There were 965 persons located on 132,665 acres and 140 locatees purchased 4,524 acres according to the regulations. Three hundred and twenty-nine patents were issued to persons who had complied with the conditions of the Act and the regulations. See Appendix 11, page 23.

WOODS AND FORESTS.

The revenue from woods and forests during the year was $1,276,376.48. Of this $636,464.54 was on account of bonus ; $61,704.70 on account of ground rent ; $1,886.25 on account of transfer fees, leaving the net revenue from timber dues $576,320.99. See Appendix 4, page 5, and Appendix 9, page 20.

The cut of last winter was much heavier than that of the previous winter, but considerable payments on account of timber dues have not been received in time to be included in this year's accounts. The lumber trade has been in a prosperous condition and prices have been well maintained. A number of new mills have been erected and increased employment has been afforded by the regulation requiring the manufacture within the Dominion of pine sawlogs cut on Crown lands in this Province. In addition to the wages which are paid in the mills, the country has received the benefit of the purchase of large quantities of supplies, the freight on the sawn lumber, and so forth. The question of the right of the Province to enforce the "Manufacturing Condition" which at the date of my last report was expected to be carried to the Court of Appeal has been heard by that Court and the judgment of the lower Court sustained. It is understood that the idea of carrying the case to the Privy Council has been abandoned, and all lumbermen have now come to recognise the fact that for the future pine sawlogs cut under authority of license from this Department will have to be manufactured in the country. A strict watch was kept during the summer along the north shore of Lake Huron, but there were no attempts to evade the law by rafting logs over to the United States.

During the year several examinations of cullers were held, and those qualified were licensed under the Ontario Cullers Act. Their names appear in the list of licensed cullers to be found in Appendix 33, page 86.

EXTENSION OF SETTLEMENT.

During the year an increased number of settlers have gone into the newer parts of the Province. In the older parts, of course, the free grant land is pretty well taken up and only the rough or "cull" lots remain unlocated. In the newer districts, however, more particularly in Thunder Bay and Rainy River where the lands are free grant, there has been a large influx of homeseekers. The construction of the Ontario and Rainy River railway, which will be one of the great highways between the West and the head of navigation on Lake Superior, is opening up fertile areas in these two districts, and sections hitherto remote from civilization are being largely taken up by people from the United States and the older portions of our own Province.

In the Temiscaming district settlement is reported to be steadily progressing. The population of this district is growing year by year. There is plenty of good land and a fine, healthy climate, the only drawback being the difficulty of communication with the outside world during the winter months; and when this is removed we may look for a large increase in population. In the districts of Algoma and Nipissing settlement has gone on apace. A large number of people are reported in the section around the head of Lake Nipissing and it may be a necessity within a short time to place several townships there upon the market, while along the main line and the Michipicoton Branch of the Algoma Central railway which is now being built from Sault Ste

Marie north to the Canadian Pacific railway a number of people have gone in. The Dryden settlement, too, has received its fair share of settlers during the past summer.

The Crown Land Agents in the northern and western parts of the Province all report the settlers in their districts as becoming better off every year. They note the erection of good comfortable houses, the increase in horses and live stock, the improvement of roads, the building of schools and churches, and so forth; and on the whole, the settlements in New Ontario from the Ottawa to the Rainy River country are all in a prosperous and thriving condition.

The policy of the Government as outlined in my last report to make known the advantages of the soil and climate of our newer parts, and to direct thither the movement of population from the older portions of the Province and other countries, has been vigorously prosecuted. The Colonization Branch was established for the purpose of disseminating information respecting the capabilities of the various districts, of advising people of the particular section best suited to their needs and of arranging for transportation for intending settlers. An enormous correspondence has grown up with this Branch, showing that the people thoroughly appreciate the advantage of having some source from which they can get reliable information about the different localities where good fertile land is to be had. This Province possesses millions of acres of fine farming land with as great attractions as are offered by any other country, and the work undertaken by the Colonization Branch will be further developed and extended, as the peopling of the great areas of the Province now lying dormant and unproductive which are capable of supporting an enormous and prosperous population is a matter of first-rate importance.

THE PULP INDUSTRY.

The activity in the demand for woods suitable for the making of pulp and paper has been undiminished. The Sault Ste. Marie Pulp & Paper Company have operated their mechanical pulp mill continuously throughout the year and have also erected a sulphite mill of large capacity. Work at the Sturgeon Falls mill has been suspended through litigation respecting this property. Since my last report three new agreements have been entered into by the Government and ratified by the Legislature for the erection of pulp and paper mills, namely, with the Spanish River Pulp & Paper Company, the Blanche River Pulp & Paper Company and the Nepigon Pulp & Paper Company. The Spanish River company have prepared elaborate plans for the establishment of their industry and are proceeding with the erection of dams, mills, etc. The other two companies, viz., the Blanche River and the Nepigon, have not yet succeeded in settling matters in connection with the water powers for their proposed mills.

The explorations in the country north of the height of land have revealed the fact that this Province has almost boundless resources in pulpwoods, and with the higher prices and the greater demand for this class of raw material, we may confidently look for a great expansion in the pulp and paper industry in the not distant future.

Regulations have been passed prohibiting the export of spruce pulpwood cut on lands of the Crown, as well as of hemlock bark to be used for tanning purposes, the object being as in the case of pine sawlogs, to realize for the Province all the benefits arising from the utilization of these natural resources in our own country.

FOREST RESERVES.

In my last report reference was made to the expediency of creating a forest reserve in the vicinity of Lake Temagaming, in the district of Nipissing. This region has so often been described that it is not necessary here to enter upon details as to its scenery or its magnificent water stretches and the multitude and beauty of its lakes and islands. The country has not much value as a farming section, but it is well-wooded with various timbers. There is a great quantity of pine around the shores of lakes Temagaming and Lady Evelyn and to the north, and it was considered expedient, in order to give this timber protection from fire and to preserve as far as possible the natural beauty of the landscape, to create it into a forest reserve. Accordingly an area of 2,200 square miles has been set apart in this region by Order in Council under authority of the Forest Reserves Act. The erection of this territory into a forest reserve marks an important step in the progress of the forestry policy of the Government. It is the first area of virgin territory which has been so set apart, the forest reserve system having been hitherto confined to cut-over territory.

In the township of Sibley, on Thunder Cape, in the district of Thunder Bay, an area of 45,000 acres of cut-over territory on which a crop of young pine was springing up, has also been erected into a forest reserve.

FIRERANGING.

The number of licensees who had firerangers on their limits last season was 79, and the number of rangers employed on licensed lands was 185. There were also 12 rangers employed on Crown lands in the Temagaming country (which is a favorite resort for tourists), and in the Wabunapitae country and the district of Rainy River, where prospectors have gone in. The total cost of the service to the Department was $26,985 43. See Appendix 6, page 14.

In the Ottawa country and in the districts of Muskoka, Parry Sound and Nipissing, the season was comparatively wet and there were no large fires. In the districts of Algoma, Thunder Bay and Rainy River, however, the summer was a particularly dry one and some serious fires occurred, especially on limits in Algoma and Rainy River. In the township of Dana, on the Sturgeon River, owned by the Crown, a fire broke out in June. The Department's rangers from Temagaming hurried to the scene and succeeded in confining the fire to some lots in the first concession. A good deal of timber was damaged, and after an inspection by woodrangers of the Department it was decided to dispose of the timber standing on lots 1 to 5 in the first concession, so that its value might be realized to the Province.

At the last session of the Legislature the fireranging system was put upon a statutory basis, and whereas in the past the employment of firerangers was merely optional on the part of limit owners, the Department has now authority to place men on licensed territory, where there may be danger from fire, and charge half the cost of the same to the lumberman. This was undoubtedly a proper step, as it was manifestly unfair that a licensee who had protected his limits year after year by the employment of rangers should be exposed to loss from fire running over from the limit of his neighbor who employed no rangers.

It has been the practice of the Department to keep close watch on the fireranging system in order to see that it is being properly carried out, and to strengthen it from time to time where it may be weak. In order to get definite information upon the working of the system, it has been customary every two or three years to send out a circular to all those licensees who have employed firerangers asking them a series of questions as to the working of the system, and what suggestions they have to offer in the direction of improving it. This year circulars were sent out to those licensees who had employed firerangers during last summer and replies have been received, and from these it appears that there were about 90 fires extinguished by the different firerangers before they got much headway, which, if there had not been fire rangers on duty, would no doubt have spread and destroyed large quantities of timber. The licensees all expressed themselves as satisfied with the management of the service, and in only one or two instances out of the whole number employing rangers were any suggestions made, and they were all in the direction of increasing the number of firerangers and making more severe the penalties for setting out fire or leaving it burning in the bush during the dangerous period. It has been suggested that the forest rangers of the Crown should be kept on duty during the whole summer, and have supervision of the firerangers. Perhaps the service would be benefitted by a closer inspection, but without an increase of the vote for forest ranging it is not possible to keep the rangers on duty longer than is required to supervise the cutting operations in the winter, and collect the sworn returns of the same.

THE MINERAL INDUSTRY.

The progress made by the mineral industry, especially in certain directions, has been very marked during the year. The manufacture of pig iron is now firmly established, the two furnaces in operation during 1899 being supplemented by a third built by the Canada Iron Furnace Company Limited and situated at Midland, which was inaugurated in December. The demand for iron ore for home use is now large and constant, and the result is that new sources of supply are being opened up to meet it. The Helen mine in the Michipicoton District—a deposit ranking in importance with the great mines of Michigan and Minnesota—began shipping ore to the Midland furnace during the present season, and for the first time in the history of the Province a line of steamers was put in motion to supply furnaces in one part of Ontario with ore from another part, thus duplicating on our side of the international line what for years has been a familiar feature of the iron trade of the United States. Other projects for smelting furnaces are being put forward at Collingwood, Kingston, Sault Ste. Marie and elsewhere, some or all of which will no doubt arrive at fruition. At the last named place Mr. F. H. Clergue and his associates have a large Bessemer plant and rolling mills now in process of construction, and will doubtless in due time carry out that part of their programme which provides for the erection of a blast furnace or furnaces. On the Atikokan iron range, several locations have been placed under option to an American company, and work is being done to finally prove the value of the properties, which has already been partially demonstrated. The likelihood is, now that the Ontario and Rainy River Railway is almost ready to haul out the ore, that ore docks at Fort William will shortly be built and shipments begun. The mines of eastern Ontario have also been largely operated, mainly for shipment to the Hamilton smelter, but also in part for export to the United States. Men of experience in the iron trade of America entertain the opinion that in view of the extent of the ore deposits, and the facilities for transportation, especially by water, central and eastern Ontario are on at least an equality of footing as regards the production of iron and steel with the most favourably situated districts of the United States, and that there is no presumption in looking forward to the time when Ontario will be the seat of an important and highly developed industry in the making of iron and steel. The production of iron ore for the year was 90,302 tons, valued at $111,805, and payments out of the Iron Mining Fund at the rate of $1 per ton of pig iron produced from Ontario ore amounted to $12,765.82. Pig iron was made to the extent of 62,386 tons, valued at $936,066. Open hearth steel was made for the first time in the history of the Province, the Hamilton Steel and Iron Company turning out 2,819 tons, having a value of $46,380.

The nickel and copper mines have been more active than at any previous time. The Canadian Copper Company continues to be the chief producer of nickel and copper matte, the nickel contents of which for the year amounted to 7,080,000 lbs. of fine metal worth $756,626, and the copper contents to 6,728,000 lbs. worth $319,681, these values being for the unrefined matte at the smelters.

At the Victoria mines, Dr. Ludwig Mond has acquired valuable nickel lands, and is erecting extensive works to produce matte carrying a high percentage of metallic contents, and a plant for retreating the Canadian Copper Company's matte is being erected by the Ontario Smelting Company at Copper Cliff, which will also smelt ores from the latter Company's mine near Massey Station now being developed. The Gertrude mine in Creighton Township is being brought into producing condition by the Lake Superior Power Company, and will supply the nickel ore to be used in the manufacture of ferro nickel and nickel steel at Sault Ste. Marie. Much interest attaches to the operations of the Nickel-Copper Company of Hamilton, which proposes to produce refined nickel and copper by the Frasch process. In addition to these the Bruce Copper Mines Limited, an English Company, is re-opening the old workings and putting up a large concentrating plant at Bruce Mines which yielded so largely 40 years ago, and at Rock Lake, the Rock Lake Mining Company is pushing developments upon a copper vein of unusual promise, and is likewise erecting works to treat the ore. The total quantity of nickel and copper ores raised in the Province during the year was 221,695 tons.

The quantity of gold extracted from Ontario mines was 18,767 ounces, having a value of $297,861. The falling off as compared with 1899 is due to the closing down of several producing mines in the western part of the province, some of which are likely to resume operations during the coming year. In eastern Ontario the yield of gold is increasing, and arsenic and corundum from this region are being added to the list of mineral products. The decrease in the output of gold is partly made up by the increase in that of silver, the yield of which in 1900 was 160,612 ounces, worth $96,367.

THE PUBLIC PARKS.

The reports of the superintendents of Algonquin National Park and Rondeau Provincial Park will be found in Appendices Nos. 30 and 31, pages 57 and 58 respectively. The former park is becoming widely known and appreciated as a place of resort during the heated term, and the strict enforcement of the regulations prohibiting shooting and trapping within its boundaries is having the effect of greatly increasing the numbers of all the wild animals, including moose, deer, beaver, otter, etc., etc. The efforts of the Department to diversify the fishing in the waters of the park by introducing black bass from the Georgian Bay appear to have resulted successfully, and in several of the park lakes this desirable game fish is thriving and propagating its kind, where formerly the only varieties were those of the trout family.

Rondeau Park fills a useful part in the southwestern peninsula of the Province by providing a place where thousands of visitors can pic-nic in sylvan surroundings reminiscent of ancient forest glories. The duck shooting on Rondeau harbor is being seriously interfered with by the German carp which now swarm in its waters and root up the water celery and wild rice on which the duck were accustomed to feed—a noteworthy instance of the unexpected results which sometimes follow on the disturbance of nature's equilibrium by the introduction of new forms of life.

CROWN SURVEYS.

The following Crown surveys of have been carried out this year :—

In the District of Nipissing, the townships of Bertram and Latchford have been subdivided into lots of 320 acres each. A base line has been run east and west from the district line between Algoma and Nipissing from the 198th mile, on the east for a distance of $70\frac{3}{8}$ miles to a point near the boundary between the Province of Ontario and the Province of Quebec which has not yet been defined on the ground, and on the west from the 198th mile to the Missinabie River, a distance of 102 miles ; and the base line partially run last year in the District of Algoma, from the 120th mile post on the district line between Algoma and Nipissing near Nighthawk Lake, due west for 120 miles, has been continued to a point north of the Canadian Pacific Railway station at Missinabie, and thence south connecting said base line with said station, a distance of $30\frac{1}{2}$ miles. Some townships in the District of Thunder Bay have been re-surveyed in portions where the original monuments have been destroyed, and re-posted for the convenience of parties taking up land. Several other minor surveys have been performed during the year. The surveyors' reports of survey of the following townships Bowell, Cox, Foy, Harty, Hoskin, Miscampbell, Mutrie, Sifton, Sutherland and Waldie, (the accounts for which have been closed this year,) will be found in Appendices Nos. 17 to 26 inclusive, pages 32 to 44 inclusive.

EXPLORATION OF NORTHERN ONTARIO.

At the last session of the Legislature the sum of $40,000 was voted for the exploration of that part of the Province lying between the Canadian Pacific Railway and James Bay. The knowledge possessed of this country, its topography and the character and extent of its resources in minerals, timber and agricultural land, was of a general nature and was limited indeed. It was believed from official and other information that there were in this country extensive forests of woods suitable for the making of pulp and paper, and great areas of tillable land. Early in the summer ten exploration parties were organized and sent out by the Department, each being assigned a separate and distinct section, and while it was not anticipated or hoped that they would succeed in penetrating every corner of so extensive a region, yet it was expected that enough would be learned to show that in the region north of the height of land dividing the James Bay from the St. Lawrence River waters, there are great areas of fertile country and immense forests of spruce and other pulpwoods.

The result of the exploration is that a tract of arable land has been found north of the height of land, stretching from the Quebec boundary west across the districts of Nipissing, Algoma and Thunder Bay, comprising an area of about 24,500 square miles or 15,680,000 acres. The soil is a clay or clay loam, nearly all suitable for farming purposes, and the region is watered by the Moose and its tributaries, the Abitibi, Mettagami and Missin-able, and the Albany and its tributaries, the Kenogami and Ogoke. Along this latter stream alone, about which almost nothing was known, a tract of good land was found extending on both sides of the river for a distance of over forty miles, and in the district of Rainy River, between the surveyed townships around Dryden and Lac Seul, another extensive area of good land was found, about 600 square miles or 384,000 acres in extent.

The climate of this region is reported to have no features which would prevent the ripening of grain or the growing of root crops. It lies for the most part south of the 50th parallel of latitude, which crosses the Province of Manitoba near Winnipeg, and its climate will not differ much from that of the latter Province. Crops of grain, potatoes and other vegetables and even small fruits were found growing as far north as James Bay.

A great pulpwood forest has been located north of the height of land extending across the districts of Nipissing, Algoma and Thunder Bay, with a depth in some places of 150 miles. The timber embraces all the common pulp woods, such as spruce, poplar, jackpine and balm of gilead, as well as tamarac and cedar along the banks of the streams. It is generally of good quality, usually thick on the ground and ranges in size up to three feet in diameter. In the district of Nipissing south of the height of land an extensive pine forest was explored and estimated to contain about 3 billions of feet B.M.

On the whole, the information brought in by these exploration parties has been extremely gratifying and the benefit to the Province of conducting the exploration of so extensive a country has been abundantly demonstrated. It is now established that in this section of the Province, hitherto but little known, we have illimitable quantities of pulpwoods and millions of acres of good agricultural land, which are capable of sustaining a large population of industrious people.

I regret to state that two of the surveyors in charge, Messrs. Tiernan and Davidson, have died since their return, Mr. Tiernan very soon after he reached home, while Mr. Davidson was not spared to complete his report.

The work entailed on the Department in planning the work, organizing and despatching the different parties in so short a space of time, the purchase of supplies, etc., was very great, but I am pleased to say that it was carried out with economy and success. The reports of the various exploration parties, together with a map of the country explored, will be printed and presented to the Legislature concurrently with this report.

MUNICIPAL SURVEYS.

The Department has during the year, on petition from the municipalities of the counties of Carleton and Lanark, and the townships of Mariposa, McNab, South Sherbrooke, Westmeath and Williamsburg, issued instructions for the survey of a portion of the boundary line between the townships of Gloucester and Osgoode; the boundary line between the townships of Montague and Beckwith; portion of the road allowance between the ninth and tenth concessions of the township of Mariposa; part of the south-east town line and part of the road allowance between concessions A and B in the township of McNab; portion of the road allowance between the eighth and ninth concessions of the township of South Sherbrooke; portions of the blank concession lines between the first and second concessions west of Muskrat lake, and between the third and fourth concessions east of Muskrat Lake, in the township of Westmeath; and portion of the road allowance between the fourth and fifth concessions of the township of Williamsburg.

The following municipal surveys have been confirmed during the year under the provisions of R.S.O. 1897, cap. 181, s. 14, s.s. 4, such surveys so confirmed being final and conclusive as to all parties: The allowance for road between the third and fourth concessions of the township of Orford, from the town line between Orford and Aldborough westerly across the several lots to lot number fifteen; that portion of the road allowance between the townships of March and Torbolton crossing the second concessions thereof; that portion of the road allowance between the seventh and eighth concessions of the township of Richmond from lot number seven to thirteen inclusive, the road between or through lots numbers sixteen and seventeen in concessions A, B, C, one, two, three and four in the township of Etobicoke; the allowance for road between the third and fourth concessions of the township of Markham adjoining lots numbers one to five inclusive ; the side road allowance between lots numbers twenty and twenty one in the thirteenth concession of the township of West Gwillimbury ; part of the south-east town line along concession A, the road allowance between concessions A and B across lots numbers one and two in the township of McNab ; part of the road allowance between the eight and ninth concessions of the township of South Sherbrooke from lot number ten westerly to the boundary line of the township of Oso ; the allowance for road between the ninth and tenth concessions of the township of Mariposa, across lots numbers eight and nine ; the blank concession line between the first and second concessions west of Muskrat Lake in the township of Westmeath between side road between lots numbers ten and eleven and lots numbers fifteen and sixteen, and between the third and fourth concessions east of Muskrat Lake, from side road allowance between lots numbers ten and eleven to side road allowance between lots number fifteen and sixteen ; and the allowance for roads between the townships of Montague and Beckwith. The particulars relating to these Surveys will be found in Appendices No. 14, page 27.

MINING AND OTHER SURVEYS.

The Mines Act requires that applicants to purchase or lease mining lands in unsurveyed territory shall file in the Department surveyors' plans of their locations with field notes and descriptions by metes and bounds before any sale or lease can be carried out ; and under Orders in Council dated 23rd January, 1892, 3rd December, 1892, and 22nd September, 1893, applicants to purchase islands or locations for agricultural purposes in unsurveyed territory are required to file surveyors' plans of their locations, which are to be of the form and size, wherever practicable, prescribed by the Mines Act, together with the necessary affidavits.

Under the above Act and regulations in the Districts of Parry Sound, Nipissing, Algoma, Rainy River, and Thunder Bay an area of 20,957 $\frac{7}{20}$ acres has been sold and patented during the year for which the sum of \$42,883 has been received ; and an area of 16,844 $\frac{7}{10}$ acres has been leased at \$1 per acre for the first year's rental.

APPENDIX No. 17.
TOWNSHIP OF SIFTON.
DISTRICT OF RAINY RIVER.

PORT ARTHUR, December 14th, 1899.

SIR,—In accordance with instructions received from your department, dated 5th of July, 1899, I have made a survey of the Township of Sifton, in the District of Rainy River, and beg to report thereon as follows :—

On my arrival on the ground, I found that T. R. Deacon, O.L.S., had established the south-east corner of the township of Sutherland, one chain north of the intersection of Reid's first correction line with the line run by A. L. Russell in 1875, and had planted there a wooden post with an iron bar alongside marked "Sifton" on the north east face and "Sutherland" on the north-west. My instructions were to adhere to this post for my south-west corner. I commenced my survey by chaining along Reid's correction line which forms the north boundary of the townships of Pattullo and Tait, and planted posts for the front angles of the lots, at a distance of one chain north of Reid's correction line, leaving a road allowance of one chain between Sifton township and the townships of Pattullo and Tait. As instructed, I made lots eleven and twelve of a width of forty-four chains and fifty links each. The remaining lots were each made forty chains wide, the south-east corner of the township was established four hundred and eighty-nine chains east of my starting point, and one chain north of Reid's correction line. Here I planted a substantial cedar post, with an iron bar driven beside it marked "Sifton" on the north-west face and "Bertram" on the north-east. From this post I ran north astronomically a distance of four hundred and eighty-nine chains to the north-east corner of the township, where a substantial wooden post with an iron bar beside it was driven. This iron bar was marked "Sifton" on the south-west face and "Bertram" on the south-east face, and a cairn of stones was raised so as to make this corner practically indestructible. As instructed, concession VI was made eighty-nine chains deep, all the others being of the regular depth of eighty chains. The front of concession VI was run across the township before the north boundary was started, in order to have a trial line by which to run the north boundary, as my instructions were that the north boundary was to be a straight line from the north-east corner of Sifton township to the north-east corner of Sutherland. This line struck the east boundary of Sutherland township, one chain sixteen and a half links north of the front of concession VI. The chainage from this point to the north-east corner of Sifton being obtained, I was enabled to run a straight line from the north-east corner of Sifton township to the north-east corner of Sutherland, the bearing of this line is S. 89 degrees, 43 minutes west. The southerly and westerly portions of the township are mostly swamp, portions of which are well-timbered with tamarac, spruce and cedar, but the greater portion was only stunted spruce and tamarac of no value. This area, however, while now very wet can be well drained by the branches of the Pine river, one branch of which runs through the north-west portion of the township, and a tributary to the other branch, which runs through the north part of Pattullo, affords a splendid opportunity for draining the south-eastern portion. These streams have sufficient fall to afford excellent drainage, and this portion of the township will eventually become excellent agricultural land, owing to its natural richness.

The north-east portion of the township is somewhat broken up by rocky ridges. No minerals of value were seen, but both the Laurentian and the Huronian formations show up strongly in this section. A large portion of the eastern and northern parts of the township, however, is composed of clay land covered with second growth poplar and tamarac and contains some excellent farming land.

Some small areas of pine exist, but much of it is unsound. No timber areas exist which are of sufficient importance to justify being reserved for timber purposes. There were no settlers in the township at the time the survey was made.

Game is plentiful including moose, partridge, prairie chicken and rabbits. Beaver are numerous in the north-western portion of the township, along the branch of the Pine river. Care was taken to see that the lines were well opened and blazed, that the posts were of good material, properly marked and that stones were piled around them wherever possible.

The magnetic variation which is about 8 degrees, 35 minutes east was very constant throughout.

The plan, timber plan and field notes are submitted with this report.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed) JAMES S. DOBIE,

Ontario Land Surveyor.

APPENDIX No. 18.

TOWNSHIP OF SUTHERLAND.

DISTRICT OF RAINY RIVER.

RAT PORTAGE, Oct. 4th, 1899.

SIR:—I have the honor to report that in accordance with instructions dated July 5th, 1899, the township of Sutherland, in the District of Rainy River, has been surveyed into lots of 320 acres or thereabouts, by me. Some difficulty was at first experienced in picking up the old line forming the north boundary of the townships of Nelles and Pattullo, but eventually the original post at the south east angle of section 36 in the east limit of Nelles was discovered, and the east boundary of Nelles traced north till the north limit was discovered. Having once located the north limit of Nelles, the old post at the north east angle of section 32 Pattullo was discovered and the old line exactly 63 links east thereof, as given in the instructions. This old line was re-traced north and the post at the north-east angle of Sutherland also found, though planted 25 years ago. An observation was made on Polaris at the south-east angle of Sutherland and the survey was commenced from this point and carried to completion. The mean magnetic variation throughout the township is 8 degrees, 25 minutes east. Iron posts were marked as per instructions and planted at the corners of the township. At the north-west and south-west angles the name "Sutherland" was cut on the posts previously planted by O. L. S. Proudfoot in his survey of the township of Pratt.

The township of Sutherland contains a considerable area of good agricultural land, easily cleared, as there is practically no heavy standing timber in the township except a small strip on the west side. Of a total area of 24,466 acres, about 14,350 acres are suitable for agricultural purposes and the balance is composed of low swamp with small scattered black spruce and tamarac scrub and muskeg and cranberry marsh, with the two small lakes shown in the plan. The whole township is very flat and has no great elevation above the water level of the creeks and Pine river. The only outcrops of rock formation are granite and syenite and in one place a small area of conglomerates, very unpromising from a mineralogical standpoint, though it is probable coal might be found at some depth.

This township has, previous to its being burned over, been covered with a fine forest of poplar, pine and cedar, which is now lying in a partially decayed state on the ground. From the appearance of the fallen timber, I estimate that $50,000 worth of timber has been destroyed here by fire, a striking instance of the immense damage done annually by forest fires.

There are no large streams in the township and until a good road is built across the swampy portion of the first concession, access to the better lands of the township will be found to be difficult.

Moose and large game are fairly numerous. A plan of the township, a timber plan, a copy of the field notes and account for survey are enclosed herewith.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed) THOS. R. DEACON.

Ontario Land Surveyor.

Commissioner of Crown Lands,

APPENDIX No. 19.

TOWNSHIP OF HARTY.

DISTRICT OF ALGOMA.

WEST MONTROSE, Nov. 7th, 1899.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report of the survey of the township of Harty, in the District of Algoma, surveyed by me under instructions from your Department, bearing date July the 6th, 1899.

I proceeded by rail from Sudbury with men and supplies to Onaping Station on the C. P. R., and from there followed along the trail leading to Stobie's Mine on lot 3, in concession 4 of the township of Levack, and from there I cut a good trail along side-line of lots Nos. 2 and 3, through the 5th and 6th concessions to the north boundary of Levack.

I commenced the survey by retracing the north boundary of Levack, planting posts at regular intervals of 40 chains as the front of the 1st concession of the township of Harty, and then proceeded with the other side lines and concession lines, as instructed, running the easterly part of the township first and finishing upon the south-west corner, leaving lot 13 on the first concession 29.74 chains, instead of 39.20 chains, as indicated by the field notes of the north boundary of Levack.

I also retraced and reblazed the east boundary of the township of Hess, and show in my field notes the distances apart of the concession lines in Hess with those run by me in Harty. I planted an iron post at each angle of the township, marking them as directed by the instructions, e. g. the post at south east angle of the township is marked Foy on the east side, Harty, on the north west side and Levack on south west side, and the post on the south west angle of the township is marked Cartier on the south west side, Levack on the south east side, Hess on the north west side, and Harty on the north east side. The other posts in the township were all marked with a proper marking iron on the east and west sides the numbers of the lots, and on the north and south sides, where side lines and concession lines intersect, with the numbers of the concessions and the other posts on the concession lines were marked on the east and west with lot numbers and on the north side the numbers of the concession.

The township is very rough and rocky, broken by numerous lakes and ponds which have been measured and connected with the lines on which they occur.

A very small portion of the township would be fit for agricultural purposes, the best for that purpose being found on lots 6 and 7, concessions 2 and 3, along the river on lots 10 and 11 in the 5th and 6th concessions and the north halves of lots 8 and 9 in the 5th concession.

The Onaping river enters the township on the north boundary on lot 11 and runs south-westerly, touching the west boundary on lot 13 in the 3rd concession, thence easterly and southerly leaving the township on lot 10, concession 1. There are several rapids and small falls on the river as shown on the notes, some of which would afford good mill and water privileges.

The township is well timbered throughout except part of lots 3, 4 and 5 in the 5th and 6th concessions which has been burned over a number of years ago, but even this brûlé has on it a large number of red and white pine of good quality. The balance of the lots are, generally speaking, pine, spruce, cedar and balsam, spruce and balsam predominating slightly in the easterly part of the township and pine in the westerly part through the whole of the township. I would judge it would make a good average pine limit. On lots 11, 12 and 13, in the 5th and 6th concessions, considerable square timber has been cut and removed.

The rocks in the township as a general thing are of granite formation, though along the easterly boundary, and in the south westerly portion of the township diorites were found and strong local attraction of the magnetic needle in places as shown in notes.

Nothing of commercial value was found. The general magnetic variation of the needle was $5^{\circ} 40'$ west. The township abounds in large and small game such as moose, red deer, bear, mink and a few beaver and the lakes in pike.

Accompanying this report I beg to submit plan and field notes and account.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
(Signed) C. D. BOWMAN,

Commissioner of Crown Lands,

APPENDIX No. 20.

TOWNSHIP OF FOY.

DISTRICT OF ALGOMA.

RIDGETOWN, Dec. 30th, 1899.

SIR,—Acting under instructions from the Commissioner of Crown Lands, bearing date July 5th, 1899, whereby I was instructed to survey the township of Foy, in the District of Algoma, into lot of 320 acres each, I have the honor to submit the following report.

I left Ridgetown on the 15th day of August, and went by rail to Toronto and to Sudbury. Thence with wagons to within about two miles of the southeast corner of the township of Howell or Trout Lake; then I packed to the lake and canoed across it, to the northwest corner, where I found a trail which I followed leading into the township of Foy at Lot 1, concession III.

On August 23rd, I found the northeast corner of the township of Morgan, which is also the southeast corner of the township of Foy, here I found a four inch birch post planted by O.L.S. DeGurse in 1886, which post is 9 chains and 8 links north of the southwest corner of the township of Howell. Beside this birch post I planted an iron post three feet long with a diameter of $1\frac{3}{4}$ inches and painted red. On the east face of this post is cut the word "Howell," on the southwest face the word "Morgan" and on the northwest face the word "Foy."

From this corner I reblazed the north boundary of the township of Morgan, which is the south boundary of the township of Foy, planting posts every 40 chains marking lots 1, 2 and 3, concession 1, of the township of Foy.

On August 25th I took an observation on Polaris at the south boundary between lots two and three, and the next day ran north and began the actual survey of the township.

Other observations were taken at different times during the progress of the work to secure accuracy, and the times and places of these observations are shown in the accompanying field notes.

The average variation of the compass was $N 6^{\circ} 45' W$. Posts were planted at the intersections of the north and south lines and others midway between said intersections, the first named posts being marked with the proper lot numbers on the east and west sides, and the concession numbers on the north and south sides. The latter named posts were similarly marked except the south side on which nothing was put. An iron post three feet long with a diameter of $1\frac{3}{4}$ inches and painted red was planted beside the spruce post planted by O.L.S. DeGurse which marks the southwest corner of the township of Foy, on the northeast face of this iron post was cut the word "Foy," on the southeast face the word "Morgan" and on the west face the word "Levack". At the northeast corner of the Township of Foy I planted an iron post three feet long with a diameter of $1\frac{3}{4}$ inches and painted red, on the southeast face of this post is cut the word "Howell" and on the southwest face the word "Foy". At the northwest corner of the township O.L.S. Bowman planted a similar iron post on the southeast face of which is cut the word "Foy" and on the southwest face the word "Harty".

The instruments used were 5 inch transit theodolite made by Potter and a 6 inch Hearn and Potter transit and a steel band chain.

There are a number of small lakes in the township, these being larger and more numerous in the northern part. There are also a number of brooks and creeks.

There is a large creek beginning in the northwest corner of the township and running south and a little east across the township.

The general direction of all the creeks and brooks is south towards the Vermilion River, which is approximately four miles south of the south boundary of Foy.

The township is generally hilly, rolling and rocky, but there are a number of alder swamps and beaver meadows.

The timber is chiefly white pine, tamarac, jack-pine, cedar, balsam, birch and poplar. The white pine in the southwest part of the township is fairly large and quite valuable. The central western part was overrun by fire this summer just previous to the time of survey.

The soil consists of muck in the meadows and marshes, but the high lands are chiefly sand, gravel, stones and rock.

The township is chiefly adapted for grazing, being well watered by streams and lakes.

There is some little show of mineral in the rocks from lots 1 to 6 in the 3rd concession. Specimens of the fixed rocks in different parts of the township accompany this report.

Accompanying are plans and field notes prepared in accordance with the instructions.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed) ANGUS SMITH,

Ontario Land Surveyor.

APPENDIX No. 21.

TOWNSHIP OF MUTRIE.

DISTRICT OF RAINY RIVER.

TILBURY, DEC. 30TH, 1899.

SIR,—In accordance with instructions received from your Department, dated July 10th, 1899, I have made a survey of the township of Mutrie, in the District of Rainy River, and beg leave to report thereon as follows:

The township is bounded on the east by the township of Sanford, and on the north, south and west by the unsurveyed lands of the Crown.

I commenced the survey at the southeast angle of the township, where I found posts as specified in the instructions, viz.: an iron post of gas-pipe $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches in diameter and two wooden posts, all marked as shown in the field notes, and retraced O. L. S. E. Stewart's line due west to the Canadian Pacific Railway and produced the same due west until I intersected Eagle lake for the front of my first concession or south boundary, planting lot posts thereon at regular intervals of 40 chains.

I then ran out the other concession lines and side lines as directed in the instructions. I could not find the iron post planted by O. L. S. E. Stewart at the lake in the northwest corner of the township, the wooden post I marked with the word Mutrie, facing the township in addition to the other requisite marks.

The iron post at the northeast corner was marked with the word Mutrie facing the township ; it had also on it the word Sanford facing the southeast. I also planted the iron posts as directed at the intersections of the south and west boundaries with Eagle lake, marking thereon the word Mutrie facing the township.

The greater portion of the township is rolling land, and for the most part the soil is of clay and clay loam, and is very good soil for agricultural or grazing purposes. But there are places where the soil is a very light sand and would not be of much account for either agricultural or grazing purposes, and this occurs principally in lots four, five, six and seven in the first and second concessions. There is also considerable swamp land in the township in which the soil varies as much as it does on the high land. Where there is a clay sub-soil with black muck on top the soil is very rich, and as a general thing would be easily drained, as it occurs principally along or close to the rivers or lakes or has a creek running through it and by doing a little excavating in those creeks or low bottom lands they could be made efficient to drain large areas of this swamp land.

I should judge that there would be about forty per cent. of the township that would make very good farming land. There was no valuable timber to be seen in the township that would be of any commercial value, as it has nearly all been run over with fire some 25 or 30 years ago and has grown up with small timber about 6 or 7 inches in diameter.

There was not any white pine in the township except a few on an island in Eagle lake, south of the side line between lots twelve and thirteen which ran from 8 to 16 inches in diameter, but not enough to be of commercial value.

There are a great number of windfalls in the township which make it very difficult to get through, as the timber is piled up 5 and 6 feet high in some places and small scrub growing up through it, especially in swampy land. These windfalls occur principally on side line between lots two and three and side line between four and five, and also on the third and fourth concession lines.

The township is well supplied with water, Eagle river entering the township in first concession and crossing lots one, two and three, when it takes a northeasterly course and crosses the east boundary in the third concession and joins the Wabigoon river about half a mile outside of the township. The Wabigoon river enters the township in the third concession and flows in a northwesterly direction across lots one to ten inclusive, in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth concessions, crossing the north boundary about one and one-half chains east of the side line between lots ten and eleven. There are also two small lakes within the township besides two more on the boundaries, one on the east boundary and another on the north-west corner of the township, in addition to Eagle lake at the south-west part of the township.

There was no indication of mineral met with during the progress of the survey, and the rock was of the usual kind met with in this district.

Game was very scarce in the township but the rivers and lakes abound with beautiful fish, such as pike, pickerel, and black bass, and I was told by a fisherman that the white fish were very plentiful in Eagle lake.

There is but one squatter in the township who is a fisherman, and lives on a small island in Eagle lake.

Accompanying this report please find field-notes and plan of the township, which I trust you will find satisfactory.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed) JOS. M. TIERNAN,
Ontario Land Surveyor.

APPENDIX No. 22.

TOWNSHIP OF BOWELL.

DISTRICT OF ALGOMA.

SIMCOE, Nov. 1st, 1899.

SIR :—Acting under instructions from you bearing date July 5th, 1899, I proceeded to Sudbury on August 9th, and executed the survey of the township of Bowell in accordance with the accompanying plan and field notes.

I purchased my supplies at Sudbury, and sent them in along with my men on wagons via the Blezard mine and an old lumber road leading to Marion's camp, near the north-west angle of the township of Hanmer. I went in via Rayside, thence north-east to Brisboise farm and on to the Vermillion river where I struck the river over which the supplies went.

I began the survey at a pine post planted by O. L. S. Laird at the north east angle of the township of Lumsden. Here I planted an iron post which I obtained along with two others from Mr. T. J. Ryan at Sudbury. This post, I marked as follows: Bowell on the north-west, Wisner on the north-east, Hanmer on the south-east, and Lumsden on the south-west.

I retraced the north boundary of Lumsden planting posts every forty chains and an iron post at the north-west angle, marked as follows: Bowell on the north-east, Lumsden on the south-east, and Morgan on the west. This post is 9.08 chains south of the north-east angle of Morgan where O. L. S. Smith planted an iron stake at the south-east angle of the Township of Foy.

I then retraced the east boundary of the township i. e. Proudfoot's meridian line. This line I found well cut out and very easily followed.

The second concession line, I began at Proudfoot's one mile post and ran westerly until it intersected Trout Lake and then westerly again from the westerly limit of Trout Lake until it intersected mining location W. D. 239, then again from the westerly limit of W. D. 37 to O. L. S. Salter's old meridian line. Posts were planted in this concession every forty chains and at the edge of the lake and mining locations. All posts planted on the south boundary are marked with concession I. on the north side and lot numbers on east and west side. On the line between the first and second concessions posts were similarly planted and owing to the numerous breaks in the line, posts were also planted at each edge of the lake and mining locations. These latter posts were marked with concessions on north and south, and lot numbers on one side and location number on the other side. The post between lots nine and ten was the only post on the line set at an intersection of a north and south line. It was of course marked con. II on north, con. I on south, IX on east and X on west. The line in front of concession III was similarly run and posts planted. The lines in front of the fourth, fifth and sixth concessions were run down through and posts planted every forty chains and marked when between one and two,—three and four, etc.,—on N. E. and W. sides and on the others on all four sides as per instructions. The north boundary was run through and posts planted at each eighty chains, or when the lines between lots two and three, four and five, etc., intersected.

On the eastern boundary, I planted posts beside Proudfoot's for cons. I, II, III, IV. At concession V, I used the old post already marked con. IV on south, con. V on north and XII on east, putting I on the west side also in front of concession VI and at N. E. angle of township where I found an iron stake and marked it "Bowell" on the south-west side. It was already marked "Hutton" on the north-east side and "Wisner" on the south-east side. On the line between lots two and three, a post is planted at each intersection with a concession line, and on the south and north shores of Trout Lake, these latter being marked III on west side and II on east side.

The other lines were similarly run excepting the west boundary which followed P. L. S. Salter's old line. The line between lots six and seven, con. II, which would run about three chains west of and parallel to the western limit of W. D. 237 was not run as a mining claim, was marked up here, and the prospector, Mr. Henry Ranger, assured me he was going to have Messrs. DeMorest and Silvester survey the claim, filling in the space between W.D. 244 and W.R. 89.

While camped on the shores of Trout Lake, I made a triangulation of the lake which is included in the field notes along with traverses of other lakes in the township.

The western boundary, Salter's old line, was very difficult to find, but I found several very old pine stumps in the first mile, a few in the second mile, along the whole course of the line. I found three stumps and one blazed tree south of W. D. 253 and one large stump north of W.D. 233 near the fourth concession line. From this point O.L.S. Smith traced the line out to the north limit of the township where we found a pile of stones and remains of an old stake.

Observations were taken on Polaris on August 16th, August 24th, and September 8th.

The first was a check of Proudfoot's line from which I turned my angles. The second was taken on the north shore of Trout Lake as a check on the outlines of W.D. 17 and W.D. 229. The third was taken at the camp on Nickel Lake from which the line between lots six and seven was run across concessions III, IV, V, and VI. Lot posts were planted on north limit of W.D. 252, W.D. 251, W.D. 243 and W.D. 38. A majority of the posts were planted in a pile of stones, as no earth could be found in which to drive them.

Owing to the extreme roughness of the country, I was forced to use a transit in running all the lines, and even with all the care taken I did not get entirely satisfactory results. The line between the fifth and sixth concessions was checked at lots 6 and 7 and found correct, but from there it runs as shown on plan, north of due west.

Soil—The country was very rough and broken and has no soil fit for agricultural purposes.

Rivers—The rivers are scarcely worthy of the name of river, most of them being narrow enough where there was a current to be stepped across, and in many places completely disappearing amongst the boulders that filled the water-course.

Minerals.—I visited nearly all the locations surveyed and marked up in the township, and found a great showing of nickel, copper, and in one case, W.D. 252, zinc ore. In my opinion, the township is extremely rich in nickel, and only needs development to prove its worth.

Timber.—A belt of medium sized pine surrounds Trout Lake and small bunches are also found in the south-west corner and on the fourth concession of lots three and four, while the north-east portion of the township has a considerable quantity of fine large pine although a part of this timber has been cut off in years past. The chief drawback to the development of the township is lack of communication with the towns to the south, Sudbury in particular; the present road, via the Blezard mine, taking a team a whole day to cover the distance to Marion's Camp, and if at all heavily loaded, they can not do even that, while 1,500 pounds is considered a maximum for the road. A better road would be from Rayside North, but in either case a bridge should be erected over the Vermilion River.

There are no settlers in the township, and unless the mines are worked, probably never will be.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

APPENDIX No. 23.

TOWNSHIP OF HOSKIN,

DISTRICT OF NIPISSING.

SUDBURY, December 29th, 1899.

SIR,—We have the honor to submit the following report on the survey of the township of Hoskin, in the district of Nipissing, performed under your instructions, dated July 13th, 1899.

Leaving Sudbury on July 31st we proceeded to Markstay Station, on the Canadian Pacific Railway, thence by waggons to Nepewasing Lake, thence by canoes, via Nepewasing and Barlow Lakes and the chain of water running down the east boundary of the township, to Trout Lake.

Proceeding to the south-west angle of the township of Cherriman, we chained north eighty chains along its westerly boundary, and planted the post between concessions 1 and 2, Hoskin. We took an observation at this point on the evening of Friday, August 4th, running due west therefrom, and continuing the line to the shore of Dodd Lake, on the westerly boundary of the township. Here a triangulation was made, connecting the end of this line with the westerly boundary at its intersection with the southerly shore of Dodd Lake.

This, with the chainage along the westerly boundary, from the latter point to the south-west angle of the township, as defined by Bell's post marked VI M., gave the necessary data for running the south boundary of the township.

The survey was then completed in the usual manner, and an iron post planted at the south-west angle, marked, according to instructions, Hoskin on the north-east side, and Cox on the south side. The iron posts already planted at the other angles were also marked with the word Hoskin.

P. L. S. Bell's old line of 1874, forming the west boundary, was easily retraced, all the original posts being found in place.

On account of the small surplus in the width of the township, about four and a half chains, we deemed it advisable to depart slightly from the instructions, and make only the usual twelve lots in each concession.

The timber south of Trout Lake consists mainly of small second growth, probably twenty years old, the first concession containing considerable muskeg.

North of the lake timber is more open, being principally poplar and birch, with a good deal of small white and red pine, with, however, a belt of very dense small jack pine and spruce along the sixth concession line.

There is a small belt of hardwood in the north-west corner of the township.

Most of the marketable pine lies in the north-east portion of the township, principally close to the shores of Judge's Lake, with a fine bunch also on island "E" in Trout Lake.

The arable land in the township is probably less than one-tenth of the total area, and occurs in small scattered patches.

Bass, trout, maskinonge and pickerel are abundant in the lakes.

Deer, moose and bear are also quite numerous.

A few indications of mink, marten, fisher and otter were found, but none of beaver.

The rock formation throughout the township is Laurentian, consisting principally of coarse granitic gneiss, with, however, small areas of the finer biotitic gneiss, chiefly in the south-east part of the township.

A small area of syenitic gneiss occurs in the extreme south east angle of the township. The strike of the rock formation is very generally north-west and south-east.

Numerous dykes of pegmatite and felsite were noticed, usually cutting the formation; the former in some cases carrying good-sized crystals of mica.

The country shows the usual signs of glaciation, striæ being visible on most of the unweathered outcrops, bearing south thirty-three degrees west.

No indications of valuable minerals were seen in the township.

South of Trout Lake the rock ridges are uniformly low, rarely exceeding twenty-five or thirty-five feet in height; while in the northern part of the township the surface is more broken, with numerous perpendicular faces, but without any very prominent elevations.

There was practically no running water in the township at the time of the survey, the season, however, being exceptionally dry.

No settlers or clearings were found in the township, and no mining locations were developed or staked.

The survey of the lines was completed on September 21st, and the traversing of the lakes was done subsequently with a Rochon micrometer.

Herewith are submitted also a general plan, traverse plan, timber map and field notes.

We have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servants,

APPENDIX No. 24.

TOWNSHIP OF COX.

DISTRICT OF NIPISSING.

GLENCOE, January 29th, 1900.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit the following report of the survey of the township of Cox, in the district of Nipissing:

I proceeded to the township by way of Collingwood to French River Village, and thence by canoe up the French and Wahnapietæ rivers which latter runs through its south-west corner.

Finding the line described in your instructions to me as run by O.L.S. McAree in 1882, and which line now forms the south boundary of Cox, I retraced it and fixed the south-east angle of the township on this line as directed by said instructions.

From this angle I ran the east boundary, but instead of this line striking the south boundary of Hoskin as indicated, it ran some distance westerly of the south-west angle of Hoskin, as shown in the field notes.

I found the post planted by O.L.S. McAree as described in the instructions, at the south-west angle of Cox, and for its west boundary, I retraced McAree's line northward but found that it did not meet with P.L.S. Bell's 6 m. post which, by the instructions, was to mark the north-west angle of Cox. I found, however, that O.L.S. Beatty had a few days previous to our reaching this corner planted a post as marking the north-east angle of the township of Waldie, and I made the north-west angle of Cox identical with it, marking the wooden post and setting the marked iron post beside it.

For the north boundary I retraced the line described as run by P.L.S. Bell in 1874, and in doing so found his post which I was directed would be the north-west angle of Cox, but which is 37 chains and 10 links east from it.

The iron posts were marked and set at each angle of the township as directed. I might mention, however, that the one at the north east angle, being marked before the corner was located, had "Hoskin" marked on the north side, but I tried to erase it and conceal it as much as possible against the wooden post, but a close inspection will still reveal this name, which of course should not now be on it.

The concession and side lines were run as directed and shown in the field notes.

The township is well watered. The chief stream is the River Wahnapiatae through the south-west corner. It has a steady flow through the township and is fairly deep.

Murdoch Creek through the north-east corner, although narrow and shallow in the vicinity of both boundaries, is a stream of some considerable size and has evidently been used for running logs through from further north.

The chain of lakes, shown as Mullin River, are mostly deep with rough, rocky shores. The channel is very narrow with considerable fall near the north-west corner of lot 7, concession 1, and a water power of limited capacity might readily be obtained here during seasons of ordinary rainfall. The long narrow lake on lots numbers 8 and 9, concessions 3, 4 and 5 lies between rocky ridges and has its outlet to the south.

On account of the exceptionally dry season nearly all of the smaller streams had stopped flowing, and many of the channels were dry, so that it was difficult to determine the direction of the flow of water in them.

Except lots 10, 11 and 12, in concessions 3, 4, 5 and 6, the township for the most part is not adapted for agricultural purposes, but is broken and rocky. The rock, in parts, being thrown up in a series of ridges running in a northerly and southerly direction as might be indicated by the lakes on lots numbers 8 and 9, in concessions 4, 5 and 6. The north-west part of the township, however, as indicated by the lots already referred to, is a clay soil of good quality and fairly level.

Except a narrow strip of river flats a few chains wide along the Wahnapiatae, the township is a brulé, having evidently been burnt over about thirty years ago. It is now grown up with scattering patches of pitch pine, poplar and birch, very little of which is more than six inches in diameter, besides this there is a lesser amount of scrubby maple, cherry and bush white pines in places, also willows, and alders in parts. The pitch pine is confined to the westerly part of the township as indicated by the part colored green on the timber map. There are some dry pine stubs scattered throughout the township and particularly in the easterly part, but there is little or no timber of commercial value in the township.

Most of the lakes and rivers abound in fish, and moose, red deer, bear and wolves are numerous.

Blueberries are abundant in the easterly half of the township.

There are no settlers in the township.

We left the township by way of the Mullin River, which we found to be much easier than by the way we had entered it, as there is only one short portage to make, which is about half a mile south of the south boundary between the township and the French River.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed.)

APPENDIX No. 25.

TOWNSHIP OF MISCAMPBELL.

DISTRICT OF RAINY RIVER.

FORT FRANCES, October 14th, 1899.

SIR :—I have the honor to submit the following report on the survey of the township of Miscampbell, in the District of Rainy River, performed under instructions from your Department dated July 21st, 1899.

This township is bounded on the south by the township of Crozier, and partly by the township of McIrvine; on the west by the township of Burriss; on the north by a line run by O. L. S. Niven in 1892, and on the east by half-breed Reserve D 16, and also by Indian Reserve B 18.

I commenced the survey as instructed at the south west angle of the township at a cedar post planted 50 links east of the north-east angle at the township of Devlin, and one chain north of the same. I placed an iron post marked "R" on the south side, "Miscampbell" on the north-east face, and "Burriss" on the north-west face.

I then re-ran and re-blazed, easterly the north boundary on the townships of Crozier and McIrvine, planting posts for the first concession every chains apart and one chain north of the line. These posts I marked "R" on the south side. Con. I on the north side, with the numbers of the lots on the east and west sides.

I then ran the several side lines and concession lines north and east astronomically respectively, taking observations for Azimuth on each of the side lines and on the 4th concession line as a check.

On each of the concession lines the posts between lots 4 & 5, 6 & 7, 8 & 9, 10 & 11 were planted at the intersection with the side lines and marked with the lot numbers on the east and west sides and concession numbers on the north and south sides. The posts between lots 12 and 11, 10 and 9, 8 and 7, 6 and 5 were planted so as to give to lots 12, 10, 8, and 6 an exact width of forty chains and were marked with the lot numbers on the east and west sides, and concession numbers on the north.

On the north boundary posts were planted at the intersection of the side lines, marked with the lot numbers on the east and west sides, and con. VI on the south side.

Finding that lot 3 in concessions 2 to 6 would only have a width of 2 chains, I omitted these lots, marking the posts on the west boundary of the half-breed reserve 4 on the west side, and the concession numbers on the north and south sides, with the exception of the post on con. II, on the south side of which I put no marks.

The magnetic declination is from 7°30, to 8°30, east throughout the township with the exception of lot 9 con. 4. On this lot the declination varies from 15° E to 30° W.

The fifth and sixth concessions consist only of high ridges and rock with muskegs between the ridges. In these concessions the only land of present value borders on Wasaw Creek along which there is a belt of first class land, and on which hay has been cut for many years past. I noticed a good many stacks of hay which had been put up this year. The westerly parts of concessions 3 and 4 consist of Muskeg.

The other portions of the township are undulating the soil generally being good clay or clay loam suitable for agricultural purposes, concession 1, in fact contains an area of farming land of the highest quality, there being none better in this district.

Portions of this township are included in the timber berths 32 and G 5 but most of the pine has been cut, and logging operations were in progress during the survey, to remove the balance of the pine. The northerly and westerly portions of the township have been burnt and re-burnt and are covered with small jackpine windfall. On the rest of the township wherever there was pine there is to be found first-class cedar growing on high land, sound and of value for telegraph poles &c. &c.

Several settlers are located on concession 1 having houses built and crops in, and during the survey several intending settlers were met with examining the land.

The northern part of the township is simply a deer park, Moose, Cariboo, and Red Deer being very plentiful.

I forward several samples of rock collected during the survey which seemingly are of no economic value.

Plan, timber plan and field notes accompany this report.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed) D. J. GILLON.

APPENDIX No. 26.
TOWNSHIP OF WALDIE,

DISTRICT OF NIPISSING.

PARRY SOUND, Dec. 20th, 1899.

SIR:—I have the honor to report that I have surveyed the township of Waldie, in the Nipissing District under my instructions, dated July 1st, 1899. I commenced the survey at the southeast angle of the township where I found an iron bar marked Cox, facing to the northeast which I marked I on the west side, and Waldie facing to the northwest, and brushed out and chained the south boundary. I then chained the east boundary and observed Polaris at the front of concession II for meridian (Azimuth $1^{\circ} 47' 40''$) and ran said concession line due west to the line between lots four and five, which line I ran due north to the third concession. This line I ran due east and west making it a base line for the balance of the work in the south part of the township and carried the line between lots four and five north to concession six. From this point I ran the sixth concession line due east to the east boundary, and again west across the township. From the point where this line intersected the west boundary I ran a trial line due north to find the northwest angle crossing an old line at 65 chains, 75 links which I traced eastward and found the place of the post at said northwest angle where I planted a cedar post in a cairn of stones marked XII on the east side and an iron bar marked Waldie facing to the southeast. I then calculated the courses of the west and north boundaries having previously chained the south and east boundaries.

The township is drained by the Wahnapiæ River which crosses the north boundary on lot 11 and has an average breadth of about 4 chains. There are two good water powers one on lot four concession IV, and one on lot two concession IV.

The township has all been burnt over many years ago and the timber destroyed excepting a few acres in the southwest corner which is timbered with green pine. The burnt portion is grown up with poplar, white birch and willows.

There are many clay flats scattered throughout the township which comprise about one-sixth of the whole and which I think will make good agricultural land, resembling the country about Chemsford on the Canadian Pacific Railway where the top soil has been burnt off, but when the clay sub-soil is tilled it grows good crops.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

APPENDIX No. 27.
SURVEY OF ISLANDS, GEORGIAN BAY.

MEAFORD, January 20th, 1900.

SIR,—I have the honor to hand you herewith my maps, diary, accounts and report of my survey of certain main traverse lines and islands north of Moose Deer Point in the Georgian Bay, performed under instructions from you dated the 10th day of August, 1899.

I commenced my survey at Station number 46 on main traverse line of last season on Frying-pan island connecting it by triangulation to Station number 111 on lot number twenty-six, concession A, in the township of Cowper, thence to Station V on Buffalo Camp island, and so on to Moon island and along the northerly side of Moon island to connect with my transverse line at Captain Allan's straits. At every station a post has been placed four inches square in a mound of stones; each post is properly and plainly marked with the number of the station, thus M. T., IX., M. T. X., etc., so that any of them may be used when required in tying in or locating any island subsequently surveyed in the North Channel.

All triangulations across the many bays were carefully made by measuring the angles with the transit and correctly computing the distances.

All the mining locations on this line were connected, and duly plotted on my map.

This portion of my work lies along one of the most beautiful channels on the north shore of Georgian Bay, abounding as it does in varied and ever changing scenery, some of which reaches a state of magnificence not to be excelled anywhere. The northerly side of Moon island is very rugged and prettily wooded, being fringed directly to the water's edge as a rule.

After completing this portion of my work, I moved to near Campbell's island just south of Parry island.

There I began my survey of the second part of main traverse line from Station number 73 on Turning island to Station number 93 on Campbell's Rock at Good Cheer island, and as I established my traverse line, I located several of the mining locations surveyed by Mr. D. Beatty.

I found Ansley island and D. B. 33 to be the one and the same island.

At all points of deflection posts were planted in stone mounds, posts being marked thus, M.T. LXXIV, M.T. LXXV, and firmly built in mounds to prevent danger of being knocked down by the wind or snow.

There are many islands near this line all of which can and will be properly located by connecting them with this line.

The work done under your instructions this season and last season will be found to be of very great service and use when you conclude to have a complete survey of all your islands south of Point Aux Baril.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

APPENDIX No. 28.

SURVEY OF BASE LINE, NIPISSING DISTRICT.

Toronto, November 16th, 1900.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit the following report on the surveys performed by me under instructions from your department, dated 12th June, 1900 :—

The object of the work entrusted to me, as set forth in those instructions, was the exploration of the comparatively unknown part of the District of Nipissing, bounded on the north by the Great Muskeg, adjoining the southern shore of James' Bay, and on the south by the southern water-shed of Abitibi Lake. In this exploration was contemplated the acquiring of all obtainable information regarding the topography, the nature and extent of timber lands, the soil and its capabilities, the minerals, water-powers, and water-ways, the flora and fauna of the country, in brief, all the natural and possible resources of the territory included, were to be noted. A further object was the acquirement of necessary geographical information.

For the purpose of systematic exploration, the instructions required the establishing of a permanently marked base-line formed by six mile chords of a parallel of latitude passing through the one hundred and ninety-eighth mile post, north from the north-east angle of the township of Lumsden on the west boundary of the District of Nipissing, and extending across that district to the approximate inter-provincial boundary, that boundary not being, as yet, defined upon the ground.

Two exploring parties, each composed of a timber and land estimator, a geologist and a canoe-man, were attached to the usual survey party, the duties of these exploring parties at this stage of the work being to examine the country on either side of the base line, as far north and south therefrom as was compatible with the keeping up of communication with the main party during the progress of the line survey, all available water-ways being utilized for the purpose of penetrating the interior. Messrs. P. F. Graham Bell of Toronto, and Thomas G. Taylor of Gravenhurst, were appointed as timber and land explorers, and Messrs. R. W. Coulthard of Toronto, and M. B. Baker of Stratford, attended to the geological department.

Upon the completion of the base line and examination of the adjacent country, the Department directed a micrometer survey to be made of the shores of Upper and Lower Abitibi Lakes, and of Abitibi River from the outlet of the latter lake down the stream to some suitable point in the vicinity of Iroquois Falls, whence a compass "tie line" was to be run west to connect the river and lake survey with the west boundary of the District of Nipissing. These surveys together with available water-ways were to be utilized for the exploration and examination of the surrounding country by the exploring parties.

Agreeably to instructions, the party was organized as speedily as possible, and on the 18th of June I left Toronto, accompanied by the explorers and assistants from this part of Ontario, and on arriving at Mattawa, several additional men were engaged, the remainder of the party being secured at North Temiscaming.

By prior arrangement, the necessary supplies had been shipped in advance from Mattawa, and preceded us to Quinze Lake. A brief description of the route may be of interest. Our journey from Mattawa was by Canadian Pacific Railway to Temiscaming Station at the foot of Lake Temiscaming—a distance of thirty-nine miles—and thence by steamer to North Temiscaming at the head of the lake of that name. About seventy-five miles from this point, which is near the inter-provincial boundary, the canoes were taken by way of Quinze River to Klock's Depot, those of the party not required for this service, going over the Portage Road to the Depot, about sixteen miles of lumbermen's wagon road connecting these points. The supplies were taken by wagon over this road. From Klock's Depot about ten miles of canoeing, easterly and northerly, brought us to the mouth of Riviere Barrier, up which stream at a distance of nearly three miles, a portage on the east side of fifteen chains in length is necessary to pass rapids. At the north end of this portage Lac Barrier is met with. An ancient Indian practice of constructing dams at the outlet of this lake, for the purpose of facilitating their fishing operations, is said to have been the origin of its name. The length of Lac Barrier is about fifteen miles to the point where a small river, called Lonely River, enters it. Following the winding course of this stream for a distance of eight miles we entered an arm of Long Lake. Passing through this arm longitudinally, through the main body of the lake, and keeping to the eastern arm of its upper end, in all about twenty-five miles, we reached the mouth of a creek. As this creek is too shallow for canoe navigation, a portage of about fifteen chains is necessary to reach a lake about one mile in length, at the farther end of which begins the "Height of Land Portage." Crossing this portage, which leads half a mile in a north-westerly direction, we came to a small lake forming the head waters of the James Bay water-shed, though in high water, a part of its contents flows towards the Ottawa.

Beyond this lake, which is about one and one-quarter miles long, we entered a small winding creek, and followed its meanderings for about one mile to its entrance to Island Lake, so called from the number and variety of its islands. After a delightful trip of about ten miles on this lake and its northerly arm, we arrived at its outlet, where rapids and a fall necessitate the making of three portages within a mile, known as "The Three Carrying Places." Seven and a half miles farther down the river we came to a short portage to pass a fall, after which navigation to Upper Lake was uninterrupted, the total distance between Island and Upper Lake being estimated at twelve miles. Crossing Upper Lake north-westerly and north easterly for about six miles, we reached its outlet, and continued down the river for two and a half miles, whence a short portage to pass a fall of about twelve feet was made. Five miles farther down the stream we arrived at Abitibi Lake, and crossing to a peninsula two and three-quarter miles from the mouth of the river, reached the Hudson's Bay Company's Post, which was made the base of supplies for our season's operations.

A whole week had been consumed in transporting our five tons of supplies, camp equipage, etc., over the ninety miles lying between Klock's Depot and Abitibi Post through the Province of Quebec, with a force of twenty-five men, all told. The road traversed had been in almost constant use by the employees of the Hudson's Bay Company during the summer months since the advent of steamers on the Temiscaming and railway connection thence with Mattawa, and the portages have been much improved, good landing docks having been constructed where necessary.

Abitibi Post was established in 1755 by the Hudson's Bay Company, and has been continuously occupied since that date. It is situated on a picturesque point which extends into the lake from the eastern end. Up to the time that steamers began to ply on Lake Temiscaming the Post was supplied from Moose Factory, on James Bay, whence the goods were laboriously conveyed up the river after the arrival of the annual vessel from England. The population at last census (1898), including Indians belonging to the Post, was 450 souls.

Having stored the bulk of the supplies at this point, we proceeded westward about thirty miles to the "Narrows" between Upper and Lower Abitibi Lakes, where a trader named W. F. Biederman has a store for trading with the Indians.

Passing through the "Narrows" about four miles in a northwesterly direction, we entered Lower Abitibi Lake, and continued in a general northwesterly direction about sixteen miles to the mouth of a river called Tapa-saqua (Low Bush), which enters the most northwesterly bay of Lower Abitibi Lake.

Proceeding up this stream for three days, during which ten portages were rendered necessary by rapids and falls, we reached the height of land portage, about thirty-five miles from the lake. We next crossed this portage, which is about two and a half miles in length, and leads northwesterly to a small lake, named by us "Welcome Lake," about half a mile in length, and arrived at another portage about thirty chains in length, leading to a small lake about one and one-half miles long, which we named "Michel Lake." Having crossed this lake, we reached another portage of two and a half miles, which leads over a rise of more than three hundred feet. This brought us to another small lake, which we named "La France." Crossing La France Lake, about one and a half miles in extent, we entered Little Abitibi River, here a shallow, weedy stream, with moderate current and increasing depth of waterway, and followed down it and its expansions, about ten miles to Little Abitibi Lake. We crossed this lake on a course slightly west of north six miles to its outlet. Half a mile down the stream a portage was made to pass rapids and a fall about eight feet in height. Another half mile brought us to a lake one and a half miles long by one mile broad, which we named "Williston Lake." Continuing down the stream for a mile and a quarter, we reached a lake five and a half miles long by three miles broad, which we named "Pierre Lake." This lake contracts at its lower end, and is divided by only a short "narrows" from Montreuil Lake, an irregular body of water about four miles in length on a winding course. Another "narrows" at the lower end brought us to Harris Lake, which is about two miles long by two miles broad. Having decided that we were then about opposite the initial point of the base line to be run, we cached a part of the supplies, and turning westerly followed a small tributary stream, and thence by means of a series of small lakes and intervening portages, we reached the west boundary of the District of Nipissing, two and a half miles south of the initial point of the base line, on the 10th of July. On the following day, the course having been determined by astronomical observation, the work of running the base line was begun at the 198th mile post, it being marked by an iron post with a tamarac post standing beside it. From this point I ran due east astronomically on chords of a parallel of latitude for seventy and three-eighths miles, the line being deflected six minutes north at every six-mile post. Except where such point occurred in a lake or river, a wooden post was planted at the end of every mile, and an iron post three feet long and one and one-quarter inches in diameter at the end of every third mile, the number of the mile being marked on the west side of the post or posts. The wooden posts were made of the most durable timber to be found in the vicinity, and wherever practicable a mound of stones was erected about the posts, and bearing trees marked and noted in the usual manner. Where a mile terminated in a lake the post was planted on the line on the nearest land and marked with the number of the mile, plus or minus the number of chains or links. Astronomical observations for the purpose of verifying the course of the line were taken at short intervals. The magnetic declination was noted throughout, and found to be generally uniform at about eleven degrees west.

From the time of leaving Lower Abitibi, the exploring parties were active in examining the country traversed by our route so far as opportunity permitted, and from Harris Lake Messrs. Taylor and Baker proceeded down the Little Abitibi river to explore the country to the north of the proposed base line, Messrs. Bell and Coulthard having remained behind at Lower Abitibi lake to examine that region. Both exploring parties again connected with the surveying party at the thirteenth mile on the base line, and examined the district on their respective sides of the base line as far as the forty-fifth mile, when, finding from the unchanging character of the district traversed, it was useless to pursue their quest in that direction, they returned to Lake Abitibi, examining the geological features along its shores and from time to time penetrating the interior by means of the rivers met with while the survey of the base line was being completed.

The country crossed by the base line may for the purposes of description be divided at about the 25th mile post. The land in the first 25 miles is chiefly good clay, but the frequent occurrence of small lakes, muskegs and marshes detracts materially from its value for agricultural purposes. The surface is almost level and well watered by small streams of excellent water, the beds being sufficiently below the general surface to afford drainage when improved. Spruce and tamarac of a maximum diameter of 16 inches, but average of about 8 inches, are found in fair sized groves along the banks of streams and extending inland therefrom about half a mile. Beyond this distance the growth is stunted. Other timbers, including poplar, balm of gilead, white birch and cedar are less abundant, and cannot be counted as of sufficient value for more than passing mention.

Along the remaining forty-five miles of the base line the surface of the country is similar in appearance to that of the first twenty-five miles, but becomes lower and more even towards the east; swamps and muskegs become more numerous and extensive, until, at the eastern boundary of the district, it terminates in a vast muskeg, where no timber, except an occasional scrub spruce or tamarac, is seen. Great difficulty was experienced here in transporting the necessary camp outfit, owing to the generally swampy and wet character of the country. In many cases it was necessary to build a flooring of poles, covered with boughs, to make the tents habitable. The soil continues a heavy clay throughout, but covered to a considerable depth by moss and vegetable matter. Soundings in many places showed a depth of ten feet of overlying vegetable matter. With the exception of the immediate vicinity of the streams and lakes, where belts of about a quarter of a mile in breadth of fair timber are found, the easterly forty-five miles of the line may be said to be devoid of timber of any commercial value, the growth diminishing until the confines of the "Great Muskeg" are reached.

The effect of at least seventy per cent. of the territory tributary to the base line being covered by a thick coating of moss has been to prevent drainage, and as a result of the protection from the sun's rays, the winter's ice is retained all summer. This serves to account for the retarded growth of timber remote from streams, and for the icy temperature of the water in the muskegs. In many places the accumulation of ages of moss growth has produced beds of peat. On the line between the thirtieth and fortieth mile posts, large areas of that fuel-of-the-future were found, and our geologists assure us that its quality is unsurpassed.

About midway between the base line and Abitibi Lake, lies a ridge of rocky hills, in many places three hundred feet in height, forming the water-shed between the waters of that lake and of James Bay proper. This ridge is broken by sandy plains, muskegs, and numerous small lakes. The rivers on either side of the water-shed are necessarily short, and the means of penetrating the country to any considerable distance correspondingly limited.

Having completed the base line, we returned as far as Burnt Bush River, near the centre of the fifty-first mile, whence I made a track survey down that stream to its junction with Hannah Bay River, and thence up the latter stream to the height of land, whence by portage of nine miles I reached White Fish River, of which I made a track survey to the mouth, about five miles north-east from Abitibi Post.

Burnt Bush River, where it crosses the base line, is about two and a half chains in width and runs in a southerly direction far about twenty miles, to the point where it is joined by Mud River, running north-easterly, from which junction it runs easterly and north easterly about twelve miles to where it empties into Hannah Bay River running northerly. About fifteen miles further up the latter stream, the inter-provincial boundary is crossed.

Along the banks of all three of these rivers, poplar, spruce, balm of gilead, tamarac, balsam, white birch and banksian pine to a maximum diameter of twenty inches, and an average of about eight inches, grow in abundance; at distances varying from five chains to half a mile from the streams the timber becomes stunted, and beyond that limit diminishes.

The soil is generally clay and clay loam with occasional sandy ridges.

The river banks vary from four to ten feet in height, while the general surface inland is lower than the river banks. The spring freshets carry down great quantities of ice to be stranded on the banks as the water recedes. As the ice melts under the action of the sun, deposits of mud, small timber, etc., are released, and the banks are thus slowly but surely built up. This, in a measure, accounts for the lack of good drainage from the surrounding swamps.

The same is true also of nearly all the rivers and larger streams flowing through flat country in the Abitibi region.

Having reached Abitibi Post, at the end of the track survey above described, I discharged eight men not required for the latter work, made the necessary arrangements for supplies, and proceeded to rejoin the remainder of the party at Biederman's.

Leaving Biederman's on the 1st of September, we journeyed westward to the outlet of Lower Abitibi Lake, and thence down the Abitibi River to the Iroquois Falls, one of the exploring party branching off at Black River, and the other continuing down the Abitibi to explore the territory between Iroquois Falls and the district boundary. At a point about a mile down the stream from Iroquois Falls, I ran by compass a tie line due west, a distance of eighteen and a half miles to connect the river at this point with the district boundary. In the first four miles of this line the soil was a fine clay loam with rolling surface. The timber included spruce, poplar, tamarac and balm of gilead, with a few balsams, birch and banksian pine. The fifth and sixth miles were broken by rocky and sandy ridges. Banksian pine, birch, poplar and occasional balsam and balm of gilead comprised the timber met with in this stage. The seventh, eighth and ninth miles passed through continuous swamp and muskeg, with none but scrub timber. Early in the tenth mile a rocky ridge occurred and extended for half a mile. The remainder of the line passed through flat clay country with occasional sandy ridges, spruce, tamarac, poplar, white birch and occasional balsam comprised the chief timber. Some of the poplar and balm of gilead here attain a diameter of sixteen to twenty inches.

Arriving at the boundary between the Districts of Nipissing and Algoma, which we intersected in its 143rd mile, we retraced our steps to Abitibi River, up which we made a traverse with compass and micrometer to Lower Abitibi Lake. Next taking the north shore, I made a traverse of Lower Abitibi Lake with transit and micrometer. By this time the season was so far advanced that to have remained to make a traverse survey of the shore of Upper Abitibi Lake would have detained us beyond the closing of navigation. We therefore contented ourselves with running a traverse line from island to island, on as direct a course as possible, to connect the lower lake survey from Biederman's at the "Narrows" with the Hudson's Bay Company's Post at the eastern end of Upper Abitibi Lake, planting in suitable places at each end of such line an iron post one and seven-eighths inches in diameter and three feet in length and thus concluding the survey for the season.

By survey of tie line and calculations by latitudes and departures the following distances are obtained :—

Difference in longitude between west boundary of Nipissing and east end of tie line	18m. 36c. 38lks.
Difference in longitude between west end of tie line and outlet of lake	23m. 41c. 10lks.
Outlet of lake to Biederman's	11m. 66c. 44lks.
Biederman's to Abitibi Post	26m. 62c. 89lks.
Total	89m. 46c. 81lks.
West boundary Nipissing to east bounday of Ontario ..	71m. 12c.
Difference equals distance of post east of east boundary of Ontario	9m. 34c. 81lks.

On each of the three occasions on which I visited Abitibi Post the weather was unfavorable for astronomical observations and I therefore quote the latitude from observations taken by Mr. William Ogilvie ten years before, viz:

Latitude 48° 39' 32"
By calculation the latitude at Biederman's is found to be 48° 43' 48"

During the whole course of the tie line and traverse surveys the explorers were engaged in examining the country to the west, south and north of Lower and Upper Abitibi Lakes, where they report large areas of good clay land and a fair amount of pulp-wood timber. As in the cases already mentioned the timber was found to be much better along the banks of streams than in the interior.

A brief summary of the results of the season's work may be given as follows:—

TIMBER.

White pine to the north of the height of land is found in only a few places, and where seen, consisted of scattered trees of inferior value. Here and there small areas of red pine occur but are not of considerable importance, the largest being on the south shore of the outlet of Lower Abitibi Lake, where the quantity is estimated at 100,000 feet board measure. On Lake Montreuil another small tract of 50,000 feet occurs. Long Point in Lower Abitibi is estimated to have 60,000 feet of red pine, together with about 800,000 feet of Banksian pine, running about forty feet board measure per log.

Pulp-wood timber of fair quality, though small in size, occurs in many places, the most valuable tract being on Low Bush River and Circle River, with their tributaries. Mr. Graham Bell estimates this at 806,400 cords. Along the Little Abitibi River between Harris Lake and the District Boundary, Mr. Taylor reports 750,000 cords of pulp wood. He also reports considerable areas of pulp wood to the west and south of Lower Abitibi Lake. For details of timber found by the explorers, reference may be had to the reports of Messrs. Graham Bell and Taylor, accompanying this report. As to the present value of the pulp wood of the territory little can be said. When, in the future, railway communication is opened some point on the Moose River may be utilized for the collection of the raw material, or the water powers at Couchiching and Iroquois Falls will furnish energy for manufacturing pulp and paper. As a large percentage of the pulp timber consists of poplar and balm of gilead, the difficulty of floating for long distances will have to be considered.

SOIL.

As already stated, the section traversed by the base line is clay and clay loam. The same is true of the greater part of the whole territory examined. In general the land, beginning at a distance varying from a few chains to two miles back from the rivers is low-lying and marshy, the impervious nature of the clay preventing filtration, and thus promoting the growth of moss. This moss absorbs moisture in such large quantities that evaporation is retarded, and the winter's ice is preserved throughout the summer. The effect of these conditions is that an immense territory with, generally speaking, good rich soil, is rendered comparatively unproductive in a climate which, so far as our observation and information extend, offers no serious obstacle to as successful farming as Manitoba is capable of. We experienced but two frosts during the entire summer. At Abitibi Post potatoes were planted on the 29th of May of this year, and taken up on 27th of September. The yield was satisfactory and quality good. Oats ripened, and a good harvest was reaped. Timothy hay is grown and thrives.

Within the scope of our cursory examination, during the season, the land which is, or, with proper drainage, could be made, suitable for farming, amounts to at least one million acres. In addition to this, we are informed by residents in the vicinity that the well known clay soil found on the Blanche River above Lake Temiscaming, extends all the way up to the land above described.

From this it will be seen that the agricultural resources of Ontario are capable of expansion to an extent hitherto little dreamed of.

MINERALS.

The geologists accompanying the expedition report no minerals of commercial value. Gold-bearing quartz in small veins was seen, but the highest assays from picked samples gave only $2.20 per ton.

Kaolin also was noted in various places, but not in large quantities. The extensive deposits of moss peat, before referred to, would seem to be the most valuable resources discovered.

The Huronian formation extends from the southern limit of the territory examined to a considerable distance north of the Abitibi River and Lower Abitibi Lake; and again appears near the intersection of Little Abitibi River by the district boundary, from which point it stretches to the north as far as the season's explorations extended.

From the north shore of Upper Abitibi Lake, and following the northern limit of the Huronian tract first referred to, the Laurentian formation includes all the remainder of the territory examined. The exact lines of contact are, however, difficult to follow, owing to the rarity of rock exposures.

WATER POWER.

The only water powers of considerable magnitude met with are the two on Abitibi River, below Abitibi Lake. The first of these, at Oouchiching Falls, is roughly estimated at about five thousand horse-power, and the second, at Iroquois Falls, at rather more than half that amount. Both are included within surveyed locations, indicating that application has already been made to your Department for the right to develop them.

ABITIBI LAKES AND RIVER.

These lakes, locally known as Upper and Lower Abitibi Lakes, are connected by 'Narrows' about two miles in length, with a minimum breadth of about two hundred yards. The area covered by the Upper Lake is approximately one hundred and ninety square miles, of which about fifty-five square miles lie within the Province of Quebec. The length from the narrows to the eastern extremity is about thirty-one miles, and the breadth from north to south shores varies from three to eighteen miles. For a lake of its dimensions, it is remarkably shallow, from four to ten feet being the prevailing depth throughout. Owing to its shallow nature, ordinary winds make canoe navigation difficult and but for the shelter afforded by the islands travel would be extremely dangerous. The water being impregnated with clay, the winter's ice reaches the bottom of the lake for a considerable distance from the shore in the shallower parts. It is said to be customary for the Indians at the Post to be obliged to travel a distance of five to six miles in order to reach water of sufficient depth for fishing in mid-winter. Notwithstanding this fact fish are abundant. This lake has a very irregular shore line of about one hundred and fifty miles, roughly estimated. Nearly fifty per cent of the shore line is rocky, another twenty-five per cent boulder-strewn, and the remainder about equally divided between sand and clay beach, the general height of the banks being from four to ten feet. Islands innumerable, of all shapes, and varying in size from a few square feet to about six square miles, are scattered all over the lake, giving it a natural beauty not excelled by the far-famed St. Lawrence. A range of hills three hundred to four hundred feet in height, beginning two to three miles from the southern shore, affords a grand view of the lake. From one of these hills two hundred islands were counted. On a few of the larger islands much of the original forest has been swept away by fire and succeeded by second-growth timber. Where this has not occurred, the usual mixed timber prevails, and in some instances small areas of good pulp timber are found. Considerable areas of fair agricultural land were seen on several of the larger islands.

Lower Abitibi Lake covers an area of one hundred and forty-five square miles, and has a shore line one hundred and fifty miles in length. Its greatest breadth from east to west is seventeen miles, and from north to south nineteen miles. The general depth slightly exceeds that of the Upper Lake. From the centre of the south shore a sandy peninsula, named Long Point, extends about seven miles into the lake, and includes an area of probably twenty square miles. The proportion of rock boulders and beach on the whole shore line is about the same as estimated for the Upper Lake. Islands are less numerous, the more important being in the northern part. As in the other lake, the larger islands contain much agricultural land of fairly good quality.

The official meteorological records kept at the Post show the following dates of the opening and closing of navigation on these lakes :—

Abitibi River, which discharges the waters of the lakes above described, leaves the Lower Lake from a point on its south western shore and flows westerly for a distance of about twenty miles to the junction of Misto-ago River from the north. It then takes a northwesterly course for about nine miles, where it is met by the Black River, from the south. From this point it runs in a general northwesterly direction, crossing the district boundary near the one hundred and eightieth mile post.

The general breadth is from two hundred and fifty to three hundred feet, with depth varying from four to ten feet, where not interrupted by rapids or falls. At the time we visited it, the water was about four to eight feet below the general level of the banks, which were composed of clay. The most important falls are Couchiching, which occur about four miles below the river's mouth, and Iroquois, about thirty miles farther down. In the former the main chute is about thirty feet in height, but supplemented by about ten feet more in the rapids below that cataract. Iroquois Falls has a descent of about fourteen feet. Rapids and other falls of minor importance occur frequently throughout the whole course of this river, and at a point about eight miles above the district boundary Long Sault Rapids is said to begin and to extend a distance of five miles. Not having been able to reach Long Sault, I cannot speak from my own knowledge, but the total descent is reported to be about seventy feet in that distance.

With regard to the feasibility of a plan for reclaiming a part of the lands covered by the waters of Abitibi Lakes, I may say that, in my judgment, a comparatively small expenditure in the lowering of the brink of Couchiching Falls would reduce those lakes to about one-half their present area. Whether the land so reclaimed would be found to be valuable is an open question. The loss in head and storage for the valuable water power at the falls should also be seriously considered. On the other hand, the improved drainage facilities for an immense area of land surrounding the lake to be afforded by such a work should not be lost sight of.

GAME AND FISH.

The fur-bearing animals of this territory include moose, caribou, red deer, bear, wolf, lynx, fox, beaver, otter, marten, fisher, rabbit, mink and muskrat. Of these, wolf, mink, rabbit and fisher are scarce.

The feathered tribe includes duck (chiefly black duck and redhead), loon, crane, partridge, hawk, owl, and many small birds. Fish were found in abundance, among the varieties being pike, pickerel, white fish, tularie, white and red sucker, and, below the falls, sturgeon. Botanical specimens were taken at various points throughout the course of the work, and are returned herewith together with notes as to their location.

I regret that the brevity of the season precluded our covering as much ground within the allotted territory as the instructions contemplated, but a complete examination was out of the question.

The uniform courtesy and assistance accorded by the officers of the Hudson's Bay Company at all points touched did much to further the success of the expedition, and should not be passed without special mention.

APPENDIX No. 29.

SURVEY OF BASE LINES, ALGOMA DISTRICT.

HALIBURTON, November 24th, 1900.

SIR:—I have the honor to submit the following report on surveys made by me during the past summer, under instructions from your Department, dated 8th June, 1900.

My party was known as Exploration Party No. 2, of the general exploration of Northern Ontario during the present year.

The work assigned to the party was the running of a base line west of the 198th mile post on the Nipissing and Algoma District boundary to the Missinabie River, about 100 miles, and the exploration of the country for a distance of fifty miles on each side of this line, and thence southerly up the Missinabie River to near Missinabie Lake; also the continuation of my base line of 1899 from the 120th mile point, a distance of twenty-four miles west, and thence due south six and a half miles to Dog Lake, and connecting with O. L. S. Stewart's survey of 1893 along the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The object of the exploration was the obtaining as much information as possible regarding the topography of the country, the timber, the soil, the minerals, water-ways, and water powers, the flora and fauna, and, in short, everything that would give a proper idea of the country and its resources.

Two exploring parties were attached to the survey party, each consisting of a land and timber estimator, a geologist and a lineman, and their duties were to examine and report upon each side of the line as far north and south as possible, to ascend and descend the rivers crossed by the line, with a view of obtaining all possible information during the time at their disposal. Messrs. J. L. Bremner, of Admaston, and J. M. Milne of Queensville were appointed to accompany the party as land and timber estimators, and Messrs. A. G. Burrows, B. A., of Queen's University, and E. L. Fralick of the Kingston School of Mines as geologists.

Leaving Toronto on the 11th of June, accompanied by the two geologists, (the timber and land estimators joining me at Mattawa,) I proceeded via North Bay and Mattawa to Temiscamingue Station, the northern terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway, at the head of the Long Sault Rapids on the Ottawa River, and the south end of Temiscamingue Lake, thence by steamer to the head of the lake, seventy miles, and thence by the usual canoe route through Quebec, which has been fully described by Mr. Ogilvie, over the height of land, and down stream to Abitibi Lake, thence by the Abitibi River to a tributary known as Jawbone Creek, where the exploring parties commenced their work, thence easterly to the district boundary, and north fourteen miles along said boundary to the initial point at the 198th mile post, being about 210 miles north of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Sudbury, and in latitude 49° 35' 30".

The time occupied for the journey was twenty days. After obtaining the necessary astronomical observations, I commenced the survey of the base line on the 2nd day of July, running west astronomically on six-mile chords to the Missinabie River, which I crossed on the 100th mile; the line was continued to the end of the 102nd mile to complete a six-mile chord, and after putting up a conspicuous cross on the east side of the river, and ascertaining that no line had been run from the west by exploration party No. 3, within twelve miles to the north, and tying my line to an island, I proceeded up the Missinabie River to Missinibie Lake, and from the end of my base line of 1899, which was run west from the 120th mile post on the Nipissing and Algoma boundary, I continued west twenty-four miles to the end of the 144th mile, from which point I ran south astronomically through Wabatongashene Lake to the Canadian Pacific Railway and Dog Lake. Here I connected my line with O. L. S. Stewart's survey of township boundaries along the Canadian Pacific Railway, and returned to Toronto at 10.20 p. m., on the 13th of October. The instructions called for a traverse of Missinabie Lake, but as the Kay Taffrail log with which I was supplied, did not work satisfactorily, and the season was well advanced, I thought it advisable to leave the traverse to a more suitable time.

The line crosses the Abitibi River on the 14th mile and just north of Island Portage, the Mettagami River on the 33rd mile and immediately north of where Poplar Rapids River comes into it, the Groundhog River on the 40th mile, the Kapuskasing River at the 55th mile and the Opazatika River on the 79th mile. The lines were well cut out and blazed and carefully measured. Wooden posts, nearly all tamarac, were planted at every mile and iron posts every three miles, marked with a cold chisel on the east side "III. M.," "VI. M.," "IX. M.," etc., up to "CII. M." Mounds of stone, where stone could be found, were built around the posts. Bearing trees were also taken, marked "B.T.," and their size, course, and distance from the posts noted. Where the end of a mile came in a lake or river the posts were planted on the line on the nearest land and the distance noted. In these cases the iron posts were marked with a plus or minus sign, as the case might be. No mounds were built on the 102 mile line, as no stones could be found, but on the 1899 extension line it was different, and nearly all posts planted were surrounded by stone mounds.

Astronomical observations were taken frequently, the details of which will be found in the field notes. The magnetic variation of the needle ran between 5 and 12, averaging about 7 west on the 102-mile line and about 4 west on the line of 1899.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION.

The initial point of the line, the 198th mile post on the district boundary, is in a level clay country timbered with spruce and tamarac, being in the Abitibi valley. The country along the whole length of the line is almost level. There are a few very slight elevations and the depressions are only at the rivers and creeks crossed by the lines and as soon as it crosses these it comes up to the same general plane. The soil is generally clay, not a hard white clay, but open and resembling grains of wheat. There are no stones to be seen as a rule, excepting in the river beds, and no exposures of rock to speak of. A large part of the country is covered with a heavy coating of moss, which in many places retains the winter's frost till late in the summer and retards the growth of the timber. The land east of the Abitibi River about fourteen miles and for about nine miles west, or to about the 23rd mile, is generally wet and swampy but the clay is ever present as a foundation, even in the muskegs, of which there are many.

The timber on these twenty-three miles will run from four inches to twelve inches in diameter, probably seven inches average, and being of course smaller in the muskegs. From about the 23rd mile to the Mettagami River on the 33rd mile the land is not so wet and the clay comes to the surface in many places. The 29th, 30th, 31st and 32nd miles are about parallel to the river, running through splendid land and timber, large poplar, white spruce and balm of gilead. From the Mettagami River to the Groundhog River—miles 33 to 40—the country is tolerably dry, being drained by the two rivers, and there is a change also in the country from the Groundhog to the Kapuskasing River—miles 40 to 55—muskegs occurring less frequently than further east. From the Kapuskasing to the Opazatika River, at the end of the 78th mile, the country is dry but generally covered with a heavy coat of moss, in some places twelve to fourteen inches in depth. West of the Opazatika river and on the 87th mile I made the following note in my field book: "The country for a number of miles back is about two-thirds clay flat covered with heavy moss and about one-third clay and sometimes sandy loam ridges with very little moss and frequently clay to the surface with poplar and spruce timber." From this mile to the Missinabie river on the 100th mile the land is generally dry, in places a little rolling and very little muskeg, while from the Missinabie river west to the 102nd mile I may quote from my notes: "Level clay land, spruce, poplar and a few tamarac of fair size with balm of gilead."

Summing up the whole line, it may be said, that from start to finish it runs through as fine a tract of farming land as can be found in Ontario. Where else in Ontario can a tract of land one hundred miles square be found all alike level and good? Muskegs there are in it, of course, but seventy-five per cent. of the whole country could be cultivated as soon as cleared and the moss burnt off it, and of the twenty-five per cent. remaining, a considerable portion could be drained and cultivated.

TIMBER.

Spruce, both white and black is the principal timber along the whole line. Tamarac is next in order, while poplar mixed with spruce is the principal timber on the dry level or sometimes undulating land. The general average of trees is from five to ten inches in diameter but along rivers and creeks where the land is drained the trees are much larger, often eighteen to twenty inches in diameter and frequently two feet.

I would say that the best timber is to be found between the Mettagami and Opazatika rivers, or from about the 25th to the 75th miles.

Balm of gilead is found in large quantities among the poplar and spruce on the dry land along the rivers and creeks. There is no great quantity of cedar in the country only a fringe along the river banks. There is no white or red pine along the line, and pitch or banksian pine only occurs at two or three places and in small areas, other woods are balsam and white birch.

WATER.

The line crosses all the rivers in the country flowing north to James Bay and a few small lakes, but there are no lakes of any importance along the line.

The Abitibi River where the line crosses on the 14th mile is eight chains wide. It is one of the principal tributaries of the Moose River. It drains Abitibi Lake, and varies in width from three chains near its source to three-quarters of a mile near its junction with the Moose. It has numerous falls and rapids in its course, and is capable of developing a large amount of electrical power, if required. It was specially described by Mr. Ogilvie in 1890. The water is muddy from the clay through which it runs. The banks are from eighty to one hundred feet high at Island Portage and Falls where we crossed it. The rock formation at that point is the Laurentian.

The Mettagami River where we crossed it (on the 33rd mile) is over a quarter of a mile in width with banks from twenty to fifty feet high and current three miles an hour. The water is bright, its source being in the high rocky lands of the south. It is larger in volume than the Abitibi. It receives many other rivers north of the line before entering the Moose, and is the principal tributary of that river. It has many fine waterfalls and numerous rapids, and almost unlimited power could be obtained for industries of every kind that may hereafter be required. Poplar Rapids River, two and a half chains wide, enters it just south of the line. The Groundhog River, on the 40th mile, has a width of nine chains where the line crosses it, with fast current and banks forty feet high. It is a fine stream with numerous islands and a heavy flow of clear water. The explorers reported it to be one of the finest rivers in the country. It falls into the Mettagami river about nine miles north of the line. The Kapuskasing River at the fifty-fifth mile, six and a half chains wide, and flowing between banks from twenty to forty feet high is next in order. It rises over one hundred miles to the south of the line, and the explorers report it as having many beautiful waterfalls and an interesting river to canoe upon. It falls into the Mettagami about seventeen miles north of the line.

After leaving the Kapuskasing, we cross the height of land between the Mettagami waters and those of Missinabie River and at the beginning of the 79th mile, cross the Opazatika (meaning poplar) River, the first stream of any importance that falls into the Missinabie. It is four chains in width and nine feet deep where the line crosses it. The banks are low, and during high water the shores are flooded. The water is dark and the current slow, and along the shores the high bush cranberries are abundant. It falls into the Missinabie River, about fifty miles to the north of the line. This river is much travelled by Indians coming from Moose Factory to Missinabie, being an easier river to paddle than the Missinabie which goes to show that the water stretches are longer and the falls higher than on the Missinabie.

Last, but not least, is the Missinabie River (swift water) on the 100th mile, being part of the great highway between Lake Superior and Hudson's Bay. It is twenty chains wide where the line crosses, and at a rapid which I supposed was the KaKagee (Orow) Rapids. I have since been told by Mr. Baird that his Indians who knew the river well called it the Blackfeather rapids. I am not now sure which it may be, but the point could be easily settled by any one knowing the locality, as the line is plainly visible from the river. I thought the water was low when my party ascended the river (in September) to Missinabie Lake, but the Bishop of Moosonee, whom I met on his way to Moose Factory, assured me that he had seen it very much lower.

It was my intention to have defined some points along the river by measurement and observation as I came up, as required by the instructions, but I found it impracticable to do this, with such a large party as mine; and moreover it was cloudy and raining nearly the whole time I was on the river. I managed to get an observation for latitude on Sunday, the 9th of September, on an island in a bend of the river, some distance south of Conkling's river, making it $48^{\circ} 42'$ north.

After seven days of hard paddling and poling up rapids, I arrived with my party at Missinabie Lake on the 11th of September and after getting to the end of my base line of 1899,—the 120th mile post and getting in supplies, commenced the prolongation of this line on the 15th of September. I continued west astronomically to the 144th mile, which I reached on the 4th October, and then turning south through Wabatongashene Lake, ran down to the Canadian Pacific Railway as before described.

These twenty-four miles of base line were through an exceedingly rough and difficult country, much cut up by lakes and high, rocky hills. There is practically no land fit for farming purposes along the whole line west of Missinabie Lake, and the timber, often for miles together was nearly all blown down; the progress of the line was therefore necessarily slow, and the moving of the camp and supplies along the line a very difficult matter. The soil is sandy and the whole country rocky and broken and covered with boulders. The timber is of all kinds,—pitch pine, birch, poplar and spruce, and in many places of large size, especially the pitch pine and spruce. On some of the high hills the timber is nearly all white birch of large growth with sandy loam soil.

Much of the country along the line has been burnt and is practically useless. Away to the west of Wabatongashene Lake, the country is apparently all burned to the Canadian Pacific Railway and the white, rocky hills can be seen for miles. The geological formation along this line is the Laurentian.

EXPLORATION.

As the rivers crossing the 102 mile line all run north to James Bay, it was not practicable for the explorers to be much on the line, and as a rule they only came to it where the rivers crossed it. Considerable intervals of time, therefore, elapsed without my seeing the explorers and geologists; but so far as I know they performed their duties faithfully, and their reports are submitted herewith. I have read the joint report of the land and timber estimators, and may say that I agree with them in what they say regarding the land and timber thereon, judging from what I saw of the country along the line and from my previous knowledge of it. It was, of course, impossible during the months of July, August and September to explore the whole territory assigned to No. 2 party; but I am satisfied that the whole James Bay slope is very much alike, and that what is recorded of the part seen is a fair sample of the whole. Much of the information on the place has been gathered from the geologists regarding the rivers, falls, lakes and portages. The portages were often difficult to find; and if the explorers were sometimes useful to my canoe men, the canoe men were often useful to the explorers.

The matter of getting in supplies was a very important one. Four of my men devoted their whole time to it and I seldom saw them. Two of them I did not see from the time I left them at Abitibi River until they came to me at Missinabie River, and I had frequently to send men off the line to meet them and get supplies to keep the line going. Routes across the country from one river to another were difficult to find, and long trips had often to be made through territory unknown to the white man and seldom travelled by Indians.

The first frost was on the 6th of September. Wild fruits were abundant—strawberries, raspberries, and red and black currants, cherries, etc. Signs of moose and caribou and bear were often seen, and beaver, otter, marten, rabbit, mink and muskrat are the principal fur-bearing animals of the country. Partridges were very plentiful, and the rivers contain fish of the usual kind, viz.: pike, pickerel, whitefish and sturgeon (below the falls.)

Specimens of the flora of the country were taken at various parts of the territory by Mr. Burrows, and are sent herewith. I regret to say that my aneroid got out of order immediately after leaving Toronto, and although sent back to be repaired it never reached me, and consequently I have no barometric observations to submit.

Accompanying this report I beg to submit:—

- (a) A general map of the base line of 1900.
- (b) A map of the base line of 1899 additional, and meridian line to Dog Lake.
- (c) Field notes of the base line of 1900 and 1899 additional.
- (d) Account for base line of 1900 in triplicate.
- (e) Pay list exploration party, with statements of expenses in triplicate.
- (f) Account for base line of 1899 additional in triplicate.

I have the honor to be, Sir

Your obedient servant,

Ontario Land Surveyor.

NOTE.—There are no barometric observations returned for the reason that the aneroid given me went out of order immediately after leaving Toronto.

Upon getting to North Bay, I returned it to be put in order with instructions to give it to Mr. Speight, who was following me a week later. Mr. Speight, however, had no opportunity of sending it to me, and consequently I was without it all the season.

APPENDIX No. 30.

RONDEAU PROVINCIAL PARK.

MORPETH, December 31st, 1900.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit this my report for the year 1900, as caretaker and ranger of Rondeau Park.

The year now closed has been a favorable one for the deer and pheasants on the Park. There are six red deer in the enclosure and four or five running at large in the bush.

There are 160 Mongolian and English pheasants in the bird enclosure, besides several which we let go in the bush, and which come down occasionally to visit their friends in the enclosure. We intend to release quite a number in the spring so that they may breed in the bush. We exchanged with the caretaker at the London Insane Asylum three Mongolians for two golden pheasants, which we hope will raise some young next season.

We had forty-one wild turkeys hatched last spring and by the 1st of November only nine were left, many of them dying while quite young. The only way wild turkeys can be raised here successfully is to have covered enclosures for them such as we have for the pheasants.

The stable we moved from the old Weldon house has been a great convenience to the general public who visit the Park, which has become a favorite resort, especially during the months of summer. If we had a good large public house built, say seventy feet long and thirty feet wide, two stories high, with kitchen, dining-room and restaurant on first floor, and about sixteen bedrooms and one large room on second floor, and also a good road from town line to the Park, the visiting public would be satisfied. This latter is a real necessity and should be made as soon as possible.

We had a heavy windstorm last July, which blew down a lot of trees, and I think the Government acted wisely in selling the down timber at once before it had time to rot or become discolored by lying on the ground. The young red cedars are making a fine showing in the easterly end where there is not much other timber. The clearings near the ranger's house and barns are filling up with young cedars and the grass is getting quite thick in the bottom, which makes the easterly end and picnic grounds look beautiful.

The duck shooting on the waters of the Eau has been on the decline for the last three or four years, chiefly owing to the uprooting and destruction of their feeding grounds by the German carp. There should be some means devised to have this objectionable fish exterminated in the waters of the Eau.

The black squirrels are very plentiful and play around the house like domestic animals. The partridge are also very numerous.

I have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

ISAAC GARDINER,

Ranger.

APPENDIX No. 31.

ALGONQUIN NATIONAL PARK.

MOWAT, P.O., February 7, 1901.

SIR,—I respectfully beg to hand you statement of work performed by the Algonquin Park staff for the year 1900. I am very glad to be able to state that the number of trappers who have during the past year trespassed in the Park is much less than in the previous year. I had in all four men before me, as follows: January 19th, Thomas Archer, trapping, fined $50 and costs; February 15th, Daniel Redner, trapping, fined $50 and costs; May 17th, John Francois, attempting to prevent constable from taking prisoner, one month imprisonment; August 14th, La Valley, trapping, fined $10.

WORK OF THE RANGERS.

I am pleased to say my rangers have done very good work and given general satisfaction. We have improved the grounds at headquarters a great deal by taking out stumps, ploughing and levelling, and have also cleaned the shore of Cache lake in the vicinity. The duties of the rangers are many. In addition to patrolling the Park, we make our own canoes, sleds, snowshoes, paddles, etc., cut wood for the houses here and keep buildings in repair. During the past year we built three shelter houses, one on Misty lake, one on Boundary lake, and one on White Trout lake; also repaired the shelter houses generally where required, and put a floor in the one at Grassy bay. We cut out portages across from Cache lake to Boundary lake, and thence on to Ragged lake. This is a new route and one that in past years was much used by trappers coming in from Haliburton. We cut out the portages on the north end and east side of the Park, a great many of which had been filled up by heavy wind storms. We also cleaned out Maggie's creek, making the canoe route very much better between Maggie's lake and Harry's lake. We made five bark canoes, several pairs of snowshoes, etc.

FISH AND GAME.

During the past year we have put in five hundred and thirty-two matured black bass procured from the Georgian Bay. These were brought from Parry Sound in a large tank car supplied by the Canada Atlantic Railway Company, and scarcely any of the fish were lost during transportation. They were placed in the following lakes in about equal numbers, Rainy, Brulé, Canoe, Source, and Cache. Of the success of this venture I can now speak with certainty, having taken a large number of young bass during the past year in minnow traps. These were from the previous year's shipment, and were to all appearances very fine, healthy fish.

Respecting pheasants, I regret to say that after experimenting I do not consider these choice birds can be successfully introduced into the Park owing to the long winter and the great depth of snow, but I am confident capercaillie could be bred here and would succeed, being accustomed to the snow and feeding on buds of the pine and birch. I think a great effort should be made to introduce this fine bird; they breed rapidly when confined, and could be placed on one of the islands in Cache lake where I am confident they would live and from there spread all over the Park.

I should also like to see the prairie fowl here. I have shot numbers of them along the C. P. R. near Sturgeon Falls. I am sure they would succeed here.

Moose are getting quite numerous. Our tame deer have done well and I find no difficulty in breeding them in confinement. The deer throughout the Park are very plentiful and exceedingly tame; they can be seen all summer along the lake shores and even from the car windows along the railway track.

I have arranged with Mr. McNab of Fraserville for a pair of cariboo to be delivered this winter. These I hope to breed successfully in the Park. I should like very much to try elk also.

Beaver are becoming very numerous in all the waters. They are to be found upon nearly every lake, creek, river and pond throughout the whole Park. Martin, mink and otter are also very numerous.

Wolves have killed a great many deer of late years. Last year we succeeded in killing a number. I adopted the plan of shooting a deer and poisoning it, as I found they refused other baits; the result is that some packs have been completely destroyed. Ranger Sawyer got three wolves at one place all lying dead together.

TOURISTS AND VISITORS.

We have had many visitors to the Park during the past year, and from the numerous letters I have already received this year many more will visit the Park. The question of allowing cottages to be built throughout the Park will doubtless come before the Honorable Commissioner during the present year. It is a very difficult question to deal with, as not only the interests of the Park but the rights of the limit holders have to be considered. I am of the opinion that certain localities might be set apart for this purpose where the timber has been cut out, such as Canoe, Source, Joe, and Potter lakes. I do not think the limit holders would object to this, and these localities would be quite sufficient for some time. I think Cache Lake should be kept as it is, being the Park headquarters. There are many things to be taken into consideration in this matter, the increased danger of fires being the greatest. A close watch would be necessary and it would require the time of a ranger for this alone.

LUMBER DAMS.

It is very much to be regretted that so many of the lakes in the Park are being damaged by having the water kept up too long in the spring, thereby killing the timber around the lake shores. Dams must be built, it is true, but I think each spring the limit holders should be notified as they were last spring, to let off the water as early in the season as possible.

We have had very little trouble with fires during the year, and no timber has been destroyed.

My rangers have nearly all suffered with the grippe, some of them being very ill; apart from this, they have had a year of steady work. During the trapping season they are of course out continually. They travel in pairs and have to cover a great deal of country often experiencing considerable hardships. We have very little trouble during the deer hunting season, and I do not think there was any trespass.

It was reported to the Department that partridges were being shot in the Park and shipped to Montreal. This is a mistake; nothing of the kind has been done. The rangers have kept a close watch on all shipping points.

I had ten rangers during the past year, one of whom is stationed at Canoe Lake permanently. The rest have I think very successfully patrolled the Park considering the area each man has to cover.

Your obedient servant,

G. W. BARTLETT,

Superintendent.

Commissioner of Crown Lands,

APPENDIX No. 32.

LAND TENURE IN CANADA.

By R. H. BROWNE, ARCHIVIST OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CROWN LANDS.

A paper read before the Ontario Historical Society, 29th August, 1900, and published at their request.

On the 12th of January, 1598, the King of France in Letters Patent to the Lieutenant General and Governor first introduces the Seigniorial system into Canada and says :—

“In order to increase and extend the good-will, courage and affection of those who are about to embark in the said undertaking, and even of those persons who shall settle in the said countries, we have given him authority, as respects the said lands, to be acquired for us, in the course of the said voyage, to grant the same in full property to all those to whom he may concede them, that is to say : to gentlemen and those whom he shall consider persons of merit, in the form of Fiefs, Seignieuries, Chattellenies, Earldoms, Viscounties, Baronies and other dignities, to be held of us, in such manner as he shall consider due to the services performed by the respective parties, on the condition that they shall aid in the support and defence of the countries ; and to other persons of inferior rank, on such dues and annual rents as he may deem just, of which we agree that they shall remain quit and discharged for the first six years, or such other period as our said Lieutenant shall believe to be right and necessary, excepting always the duty and services in the event of war.”

The next document, conferring additional powers on the Lieutenant General and Governor of Canada, is dated the last day of February, 1626, which document gives the Viceroy power to fix the “Charges and Conditions” of future grants, or to alter them in order the better to insure the colonization, clearing and cultivation of the lands.

The third document is dated 10th March, 1626, and gives the Viceroy special power to make a concession of a grant of land to the Reverend Fathers of the Company of Jesus.

In these three documents we have the commencement of the Feudal History of Canada.

In 1627-28 a charter was granted to the Company of New France, which constituted Canada a proprietary Government. This company which is generally known by the title of “The Hundred Associates” by the Act of Association, granted by the Cardinal de Richelieu, Grand Master, Chief and Superintendent General of the Navigation and Commerce of France, dated 29th April, 1627, ratified and confirmed by the Arret of the King in Council, and by Letters Patent of the 6th May, 1628, authorized to establish Courts of Justice, to distribute the lands to actual settlers on such terms as would best promote the settlement of the country, to encourage religious instruction, to promote and encourage immigration, and grants forever the trade of all leathers, furs and peltries of New France. By virtue of this grant the “Hundred Associates” became proprietors of Canada “for ever in full property, justice and Seigniority.” The fealty and homage is the Feudal tie which cannot be broken by the subject without the consent of the Sovereign.

The first explorers of Canada, Jacques Cartier, Champlain and others, found these lands in all their natural wildness, which therefore constituted a great freehold, belonging to the Crown of France. The Sovereign alone could impress on them the character of Feudality. This is what he did by the grant to the “Hundred Associates” in 1627-28, and this is the justification for saying that this Charter is the origin of our Feudal Institutions.

The alienation of the Fief to the Seigneur by the custom of Paris was only permissible. The Seigneur was not under any obligation to alienate. The Charter of 1627-28 made it obligatory.

Quebec fell into the hands of the British in 1629, and this necessarily suspended the operations of the company, but in 1633 the company re-entered into all their rights in consequence of the treaty signed at St. Germain-en-Laye on 29th March, 1632.

The first period of feudal history ends in 1663, when the “Hundred Associates,” on the 24th February, adopted a resolution that a deed of surrender be given of their charter to the King of France, and this deed was accepted in March, 1664. The Government of New France now ceased to be a proprietary government and became a royal government. An edict of the King of France in 1663 created a Sovereign Council.

The second period of the feudal history of Canada may be regarded as dating from the re-establishment of the royal government in 1663 to the establishment of the West India Company in 1664.

The third period commences with the West India Company in 1664 and by an edict of May of that year another proprietary government was created. This company was suppressed by an edict dated December, 1674.

The fourth period was from the suppression of the West India Company to the promulgation of two arrets of Marly on 6th July, 1711. The first arret relates to the Seigneur and to his obligation to concede, and prevents him from receiving entrance money. The second relates to the Censitaires and to their obligation to hold house and home, and to put their lands in a productive state.

But from the time of the surrender of New France by the West India Company the King frequently made grants directly and issued regulations regarding grants already made by the companies. He also issued an edict revoking all grants on which settlement had not been commenced, and this was followed in 1672 by another edict, reducing all partly settled grants to one-half their original extent. When, in 1674, the Company of the West Indies gave up its rights, the King then empowered the Governor and Intendant to make grants on their responsibility, subject to ratification by the Crown, and from this time on grants became numerous. Lands were portioned out under five different forms of tenure.

(1) In Franc Aleu Noble.—This was of all forms the most free and honorable, lands held thus being subject to no obligations of a feudal nature. One of these grants was a strip of land near Three Rivers to the Jesuits in the year 1634. Another was a grant to the same order, of Charlebourg, near Quebec, in 1637.

(2) In Franc Aleu Roturier.—This form was very similar to our free and common soccage. Land thus held was free and subject to no obligations other than the general ones to which its holder was liable as a citizen of France. The grant of Gaudarville to Lauzon in 1652 was under this form.

(3) In Franc Aumone (or mortmain).—Numerous grants were made under this form, invariably to religious, charitable or educational institutions, the sole obligation attached to the grant being that of performing certain charitable or educational duties in return. An instance of this is the grant in 1647 of La Prairie de la Madelaine to the Jesuits, "in order that we may be participating in their prayers and holy sacrifices."

(4) En Fief or en Seigneurie.—It was under this form that most of the territory was granted. As to size, there was no fixed rule—the grants varied from 16 arpents by 50 (arpent = 192 ft.) to 10 leagues by 12. All grants or fiefs or seigneuries entailed certain obligations to the Crown, the principal of which were:

To render faith and homage to the Crown or other feudal superior whenever the seigniorie changed hands, or in the case of seigniories held by corporations, after long stated intervals. Parkman gives an instance of the rendering of faith and homage, one under the old regime, as follows:—"That of Jean Guion, vassal of Gifford, seignior of Beauport. The act accounts how, in the presence of a notary, Guion presented himself at the principal door of the Manor House at Beauport; how, having knocked, one Boulle, a farmer, of Giffard, opened the door, and in reply to Gouin's question if the seigneur was at home, said that he was not, but that he, Boulle, was empowered to receive acknowledgments of faith and homage from the vassals in his name "after the which reply," proceeds the act, "the said Gouin being at the principal door, placed himself on his knees on the ground, with head bare, and without sword or spurs, said three times these words: 'Monsieur de Beauport, Monsieur de Beauport, Monsieur de Beauport, I bring you the faith and homage which I am bound to bring you on account of my fief du Bois-son, which I hold as a man of faith, of your seigneurie of Beauport, declaring that I offer to pay my seigniorial and feudal dues in their season, and demanding of you to accept me in faith and homage as aforesaid.'" The other case occurred a year after the army of Wolfe entered Quebec. "Philip Noel had lately died, and Jean Noel, his son, inherited his seigniorie of Tilly and Bonsecours. To make the title good, faith and homage must be renewed and Jean Noel was under the bitter necessity of rendering this duty to General Murray, Governor for the King of Great Britain. Noel repairs to Government House at Quebec and knocks at the door; a servant opens it. Noel asks if the Governor is there; the servant replies that he is. Murray, informed of the visitor's object, comes to the door, and Noel then and there, "without sword or spurs, with bare head and one knee on the ground, repeats the acknowledgments of faith and homage for his seigneurie. He was compelled, however, to add a detested innovation, the oath of fidelity to His Britannic Majesty, coupled with a pledge to keep his vassals in obedience to the new sovereign."

The seignior was also subject to a mutation fine known as the quint. This was the sole pecuniary tribute payable by the seigniors to the Crown on all grants made under the Coutume de Paris. It amounted to one-fifth of the value of the fief and became payable on every mutation of ownership by sale or by inheritance other than in direct succession.

The seignior was also under obligation to make, within forty days from the date of his grant, an aveu et denombrement, consisting of a declaration, duly drawn up and attested before a notary public, in the presence of witnesses, setting forth the extent and character of his grant, the privileges he possessed, and various other particulars. He was also subject to the Jeu de fief, or obligation to sub-infeudate his lands. The question as to whether this was a general obligation has been the subject of much dispute, and space will not permit of going into details.

In addition to these four principal obligations, various others were frequently inserted, such as the reservation of oak timber for His Majesty's navy, the disclosure of mines and minerals, and the reservation of whatever lands within the seigniori should be at any time subsequently found necessary for fortifications or other military purposes.

(5) This form of tenure was that under which was held the sub-grants made by the Seigniors. These might be made (a) En arriere fief, in which case the sub-grantee received the same rights and incurred the same obligations with regard to his grants as the dominant Seignior had heretofore enjoyed. Sub-grants under this form were not common. (b) En censive, in which case the grantee could not in turn sub-infeudate. Some encensive grants were made by the Crown direct, but only under exceptional circumstances, as in the case of a few concessions near Detroit where the original Seigniorial sub-grants were declared invalid and new titles issued direct from the Crown. (A list of these grants made by the Crown near Detroit en censive is given on page 8.) (c) En roture, a tenure similar to en censive, but with rules slightly different as regarded the descent of the land in the case of intestate succession.

The rights of the Seignior over his grants, en censive or en roture, may be classed under three main heads:

(1) The cens et rentes.—A ground rent composed of two parts, the cens payable in money, the rentes payable usually in kind. The cens is generally looked upon as having been a merely nominal due imposed solely in recognition of the Seignior's superiority, and valuable mainly as establishing his claim to other and more important rights. It amounted generally to one or two sols per superficial arpent, but differed in various Seigniories, and even in different parts of the same Seigniorie. The rentes, on the other hand, was supposed to be a return for Seigniorial superintendence. It consisted generally of one-half minot of corn or one fat capon for each superficial arpent, but these might be commuted for cash at the current rate, which varied from ten to twenty sols. The habitant held by the inferior tenure, en censive, which consisted in the obligation to make annual payments in money or produce, or both. These payments were known as cens et rentes, and in the early days were very small, a common charge being half a sou and half a pint of wheat for each arpent. One condition was imposed on Seignior and Censitaire alike, which may be said to form the distinctive feature of Canadian feudalism, namely, that of clearing his land within a limited time on pain of forfeiting it.

(2) The lods et ventes. This due was a direct descendant of the old feudal incident known as "Fine on alienation." The land of the Censitaire passed free to his heirs; but if he sold it, a twelfth part must be paid to the Seignior. Supplementary to this right, the Seignior enjoyed the droit de retraite, in virtue of which, he could pre-empt any property sold, by payment to the purchaser of the mutation price within forty days from the date of sale. The object of this was to afford the Seignior protection against being defrauded out of his proper lois et ventes through the sale, by Censitaires, of their lands for less than the proper price. There was also a variety of obligations on the Censitaire, partly imposed by custom and partly by agreement when the grant was first made.

(3) A third Seigniorial right was that known as the banalite, or the droit de banal, which consisted of the obligation of the Censitaire of having his wheat ground at the Seignior's mill. There was also another species of banal right known as fours banal, comprising the right of the Seignior to build a Seigniorial oven and the obligation of the Censitaires to have their bread baked therein.

(4) The corvée, which was the right of the Seignior to compel the performance by the Censitaire of a certain amount of labor upon the Seigniorial domain without compensation.

There was also the right to reserve wood and stone necessary for building the Seigniorial manor, mill or church; the right of chasse, i. e., of hunting, on the Censitaire's lands, and the right of pêche or to one fish in every eleven caught by the Censitaire in the waters fronting the Seignior. This last was often commuted by payment of a certain quantity of fish for the whole year. The right of ferry over rivers was also considered as appertaining to the Seignior.

Parkman gives us this picture of Canada in 1663. He says: "The head of the colony, that is to say, the Island of Montreal and the borders of the Richelieu, was the seat of a peculiar colonization, the chief object of which was to protect the rest of Canada against Iroquois incursions. The lands along the Richelieu, from its mouth to a point above Ohambly, were divided in large Seigniorial grants among several officers of the regiment of Carignan, who in their turn granted out the land to the soldiers reserving a sufficient portion as their own. The officer thus became a kind of feudal chief, and the whole settlement a permanent military cantonment admirably suited to the object in view. The disbanded soldier was practically a soldier still, but he was also a farmer and landholder. The soldiers were maintained by the King while clearing the land and building their houses and thus lodged himself, he was required to aid in clearing the lands of those who came after him. The settlements formed long, thin lines on the edges of the rivers and with the exception of three villages in the neighborhood of Quebec, one could have seen nearly every house in Canada by paddling up the St. Lawrence and Richelieu."

Even in this abbreviated sketch of Canadian feudal tenure I do not think I can afford to leave out the remarks of Mr. Bouchette, late Surveyor-General for Lower Canada, than whom no one is better able to give an opinion that coincided with the views of his fellow countrymen. He says:

"When Canada was first established as a colony of France, the feudal system still prevailed in Europe; and, as might be expected, its spirit as well as its practice was at once transferred to those distant possessions, and the land therein universally granted under the feudal tenure. However a variety of modifications were from time to time introduced in the feudal code, that tended to abridge the exorbitant privileges of the seigneur and to add to the independence of the vassal. These modifications combined with the tacit relinquishment of several rights, have given to the feudal tenure in Lower Canada peculiarities that belong to itself and which seem singularly well adapted to the local circumstances of the country.

"The remarkable delicacy of the Imperial Government on this subject is an instance of the magnanimity of a conqueror that cannot fail to add lustre to the British name, while its recollection must tend to draw the link still closer between the Mother country and the colony.

"That it was intended to leave the inhabitants in the ample enjoyment of their ancient usages, religiously to respect and protect their laws and institutions, and in furtherance of this intention to propagate the original tenure of the Province, is evident from the instructions to Guy Carleton, Governor of the colony, in 1775," which state "it is therefore our will and pleasure, that all lands which now are or hereafter may be subject to our disposal, be granted in fief or seigneurie, in like manner as was practiced antecedent to the conquest of the said province, omitting, however, the reservation of any judicial powers or privileges whatever, the properties of which seigneuries or fiefs shall be and remain vested in us, our heirs and successors."

In regard to the judicial powers referred to above, the seigneurs by the old laws were entitled to constitute Courts and preside as judges therein in what was denominated Haute, Moyenne et Basse Justice, which took cognizance of all crimes committed within their jurisdiction, except murder and treason.

The Royal proclamation of 1763 empowered the Governors of the several Provinces in North America to grant to reduced officers who had served in North America during the late war and were actually residing there and applied personally for the same, the following quantities of land :

To every person having the rank of a field officer, . . .	5,000 acres.
“ captain	3,000 “
“ subaltern or staff officer	2,000 “
“ non-commissioned officer	200 “
“ private man	50 “

The like quantities under the same conditions were to be granted to such reduced officers of the navy of like rank who served in the ships of war in North America at the time of the reduction of Louisburg and Quebec. “The said lands to be held under us our heirs and successors, seigneurs of the seigneurie or fiefs in which the same shall be situated upon the same terms, acknowledgments and services as lands are held in our Province under the respective seigneurs holding and possessing seigneuries and fiefs therein, and reserving to us our heirs and successors, from and after the expiration of ten years from the admission of the respective tenants, a quit rent of one half-penny per acre.” This proclamation also strictly enjoins and requires that no private person do presume to make any purchase from the Indians of the lands reserved to them, and any squatters on Indian lands were to forthwith remove themselves.

“By 31st George III. cap. 31, commonly called in Canada, The Constitutional Act,” says Bouchette, “the Province of Quebec was divided into Upper and Lower Canada, evidently with a view of dividing the feudal from the socage lands of the country.

“Notwithstanding these repeated and powerful manifestations of the desire of the Crown to perpetuate the tenure of fief and seigniorie in Lower Canada, no fresh grants in fief were made after the conquest, if we except those of Shoolbred and Murray Bay, and the whole of the lands of the Colony not previously granted under the feudal system, are now (1832) considered as socage lands, and are almost wholly laid out in townships. The tenanciers, censitaires or holders of lands en roture, are subject to some particular conditions, but they are not at all burthensome; for instance, they pay a small annual rent, usually between 2s. 6d. and 5s. for each arpent the farms have in front (though in many seigneuries the rents of new concessions have been considerably increased); to this is added some article of provision, such as a couple of fowls, or a goose, or a bushel of wheat, or something else of domestic consumption. They are bound to grind their corn at the moulin banal, or the lord’s mill, when one fourteenth part of it is taken for his use as mouture, or payment for grinding; to repair the highways and by-roads passing through their lands, and to make new ones which, when opened, must be surveyed and approved by the Grand Voyer (roadmaster) of the district and established by proces verbal. All the fisheries within a seigniorie contribute to increase the proprietor’s revenue, as he receives a tithe of all the fish caught or an equivalent sum. Besides these rights he is privileged to fell timber anywhere within his seigniorie for erecting mills, repairing roads or constructing new ones or other works of public or general utility. Lands held by Roman Catholics under any of the aforementioned tenures are further subject to the payment to their curates of one twenty-sixth part of all grain produced upon them, and to occasional assessments for building and repairing churches, parsonage houses or other works belonging to the Church.

“It may be thought from the foregoing enumeration of the obligations of the feudal tenant or censitaire, that his condition is by no means so happy as to render a propagation of the seigniorial tenure very desirable; but however these obligations may, in theory, appear numerous or oppressive, they are not at all considered so in practice, and the habitant of the country would not willingly forego his present modified vassalage, if indeed the independent condition of the Canadian censitaire can be so called, for the most absolute freehold. In looking a little further into the comparative advantages of both systems of tenure, at least as regards the early settlements of a country, it will perhaps be found that the feudal system is the best calculated to aid and promote the first steps of colonization, from the circumstance of its requiring less capital, and of its concentrating the energies of a new settlement in such a way as to enable the settlers mutually to assist one another—whilst, superadded to these advantages, they collectively enjoy the countenance and protection of the seigneur, who is himself interested in the prosperity of a rising colony that is to give value to his property. The conditions of the title are such as to forward the settlement of the country, from their being imperative upon the censitaire to cultivate and reside on the land tenir feu et lieu—within a year and day from the date of the concession. The seigneur cannot dispose by sale of forest lands, but is bound to concede them, and upon his refusal to do so, the applicant may obtain from the Crown the concession he requires, under the usual seigniorial stipulations, in which case the rents and dues appertain to the King. We are not aware, however, of any recorded instance of this having taken place in the colony.

"The total quantity of land granted en seigneurie in the Province exceeds twelve million superficial French arpents, or about 15,390 square miles. That laid out in townships amounts to 6,300,000 acres.

"The inhabitants of the townships were embarrassed by the particular mode in which soccage lands were originally distributed, every 2nd and 3rd lot alternately being reserved for the Crown and the Protestant clergy, whereby one-seventh of the whole township remained appropriated by law for the future disposition of His Majesty's Government and one-seventh for the support and maintenance of the Church of England in the Province. A change, however, took place under the administration of the Earl of Dalhousie, the chequered system having in numerous cases been superseded by the plan of blocking the reserves.

"Another drawback to the settler was the granting of extensive tracts to leaders and their associates (the term leader applies to the person who made the application and paid all the fees). By the Royal Instructions of 1796 each leader had a right to make application and obtain for himself and 39 associates 1200 acres of land each, but in consideration of the expenses he was obliged to incur, a bond was generally entered into between the leader and the associates, by which the latter bound himself to convey to the former 1,000 acres out of his 1,200. These tracts were granted under conditions that were never fulfilled by the grantees, who have, nevertheless, by themselves or their representatives, continued the proprietors of the soil, which is left uncultivated. However, having a due regard to the settlement of the Province a Court of Escheats was provided by 6 George IV., cap. 59, which authorized the appointment of one or more Commissions of Escheats and forfeitures of land within the Province. These commissioners are empowered to enquire into the liability of lands to escheat by reason of the non-performance of the conditions of settlement and the verdict of a jury of 12 men is to be obtained of the fact, whereupon the forfeited lands become re-vested in His Majesty, but it is provided that the lands so forfeited shall not be re-granted till after the expiration of one year from the date of their escheat, excepting to the person or persons holding or claiming the same under the former letters patent thereof, or by a lawful title derived from the same."

The Statute last quoted is not confined to the creation of a tribunal of escheats as its title shows. "An Act to provide for the extinction of Feudal and Seigniorial rights and burthens on lands held, a titre de fief and a titre de cens in the Province of Lower Canada, and for the gradual conversion of those tenures into the tenure of free and common soccage, and for other purposes relating to the said Province."

Bouchette remarks: "It is obviously intended to effect one way what the Constitutional Act was meant to accomplish another, that is, the extinction of repugnant tenures; with this difference, however, that the 31st George III., cap. 31, tended to leave to Lower Canada its ancient tenures, whilst the Canada Tenures Bill aims at the conversion of the Seigniories into soccage lands. That it is extremely desirable to do away with the existing distinction of tenures in the Province, no one can doubt who is aware of the perplexity it produces, from the total disparity of the laws by which the different tenures are respectively governed, but strongly attached as it is well known the Canadians are to the feudal system, it is not probable that the seigniorial will yield to the soccage tenure, nor have the seigniors of the country hitherto manifested the least desire of surrendering their present privileges to avail themselves of the latitude given them by the Act in question, of commuting the burthens which they themselves bear as the direct grantees of the Crown. Since the promulgation of the law in 1825 two instances only of applications having been made, under the sanction of that Act, are recorded, viz., one by the Seigneur of St. Anne la Pocadiere, for the conversion into free and common soccage of one of the unsettled augmentations of his Seignory, and another by the Seigneur of Grondines for a part of his fief. Indeed we have reason to think that applications of that description will be of rare occurrence hereafter and that the end for which the statute was passed will, in consequence, be frustrated. When we reflect that a conversion of tenure carries with it a conversion of law, that the effect of a man's holding a farm in soccage instead of en roture, is to alter the rule of descent by inheritance, to change the whole body of the law applicable to real property and thus to introduce objects totally strange and novel to the Censitaire; it is not suprising that insuperable obstacles should bar the success of any effort to prevail on the Canadian agriculturalist to forsake his old tenure and relinquish those laws and usages to which he is from long familiarity so inveterately attached."

The conversion of these tenures into free and common soccage was accomplished by Act of the Parliament of Canada in 1854 and cost the country upwards of four million dollars.

In addition to Parkman and Bouchette I have to acknowledge my indebtedness to Mr. Wm. Bennett Munro from whose paper "The Feudal System of Canada" I have taken much information.

UPPER CANADA.

Leaving Lower Canada and turning to our own province it might be well to make the charter to the Hudson's Bay Co. the starting point, as part of this province was included in the original grant to that company.

In the year 1670, Charles II, as a suitable encouragement, granted a royal charter to "The Governor and Company of Adventurers of England trading into Hudson's Bay," making them a body corporate for ever, upon their petition, setting forth that they had, at their own proper costs and charges made an expedition to discover a new passage into the South Sea, and for finding some trade of furs, mines and other commodities; and gave them the sole property of all the lands they should discover, together with the exclusive trade to all the countries within Hudson's Straits, not in possession of any of His subjects, or of any other Christian power, with the royalties of mines, minerals, gems and royal fish, to enable them to find out the passage, extend the trade, and to plant the countries they should discover, paying two elks and two black beavers, whenever and as often as His Majesty, His heirs and successors should enter their territories; granting to them the greatest privileges as Lords proprietors, saving only their faith and allegiance to the Crown of Great Britain.

In 1821 they were granted the exclusive trade with the Indians for 21 years. This grant was surrendered in 1838 and a new one issued for a further term of 21 years. In 1868 the charter was surrendered to the Dominion of Canada for the sum of £300,000.

Amongst the records of the Department of Crown Lands I find only one statement of grants made under the French regime in that part of Quebec west of what now constitutes the western boundary of the Province.

STATEMENT of Lands en roture, granted in perpetuity, situated at Fort Ponchartrain at the narrows of Lake Erie (au détroit du Lac Erie).

To preserve all the oak and other wood suitable for the construction of His Majesty's vessels are the rights of exchange of estates against estates, established by an edict of the King, dated 20th March, 1673, of which particular Seigneurs have not the right to enjoy without requesting the same from His Majesty.

Pursuant to C., Cc., Ccc., for the concessions.

Next in order come the Indian lands with the deeds of surrender. This opens up a very large subject. Deeds innumerable were made by the Indians to the Crown, as well as to private individuals, the latter being subject to ratification by the Crown. The cessions were of two kinds, they were either for a specified sum or the lands were surrendered by the Indians to be sold for their benefit.

The royal proclamation of 1763, which I have already quoted to show the quantities of land to be granted to reduced officers, also gives full power to the Governor and Council "to agree with the inhabitants of the colony or any other person who shall resort thereto for any lands as are now or hereafter shall be in our power to dispose of, and to grant them to any such persons upon such terms, and under such moderate quit rents as have been appointed in other colonies." No warrant for survey was to issue and no patent to be granted for any lands which had not been ceded or purchased, which lands are reserved for the Indians.

The Quebec Act of 1774 states that all the territories, islands and countries in North America, bounded on the south by the Bay of Chaleur belonging to Great Britain, with the exception of that part granted to the Hudson Bay Company shall be called the Province of Quebec, thus taking in the whole of Upper Canada. Section 3 provides that nothing in this Act shall be construed to alter or vary any right, title, etc., of or to any grant, conveyance or otherwise of or to any lands within the Province. Section 8 provides that His Majesty's Canadian subjects (religious orders excepted) may hold all their possessions, together with all customs and usages relative thereto.

* The word quisquis is the first word of a paragraph in Latin inserted in many documents concerning concessions and represents the following: "Seigneurs who have held a limited territory from early times possess also direct sovereignty and jurisdiction."

Under this Act it was provided that the clergy of the Church of Rome should be entitled to all their accustomed dues, with respect to such persons only as professed that religion, and out of the rest of the accustomed dues it should be lawful for His Majesty to make provision for the support of a Protestant clergy. It was evidently contemplated by the framers of that Act that the Protestant clergy should be supported by tithes, and it was long held and probably correctly, that tithes might have been levied in Upper Canada. No attempt to do so was ever made, but it was deemed advisable to pass a declaratory Act in 1823 by the Legislature of Upper Canada, as follows:—

"Whereas notwithstanding His Majesty has been graciously pleased to reserve for the support of a Protestant clergy in this Province one-seventh of all lands granted therein, doubts have been suggested that the tithe of the produce of land might still be legally demanded by the incumbent duly instituted, or rector of any parish; which doubt it is important to the well doing of this colony to remove: Be it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Assembly of the Province of Upper Canada constituted and assembled by virtue of and under the authority of an Act passed in the Parliament of Great Britain, entitled 'An Act to repeal certain parts of an Act passed in the 14th year of His Majesty's reign entitled "An Act for making more effectual provision for the government of the Province of Quebec in North America, and to make further provision for the government of the said Province," and by the authority of the same that no tithes shall be claimed, demanded, or received by any ecclesiastical parson, rector or vicar of the Protestant church within this province, any law, custom or usage to the contrary notwithstanding."

We have already seen that the first instructions to Governor Guy Carleton in 1775 authorized the land to be granted in fief or *seignior*y in like manner as was practised antecedent to the conquest. In 1786 the instructions to the same Governor were still more definite and stated that the lands granted to the settlers, who were really the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the forces, be divided into distinct seigniories or fiefs to extend from two to four leagues in front and from three to five in depth, if situated on a navigable river, otherwise to be run square.

Upon raising the 84th Regiment its members were promised that when reduced they should receive grants of land according to their rank, the same as laid down in the Royal proclamation of 1763. The grants, therefore, to this regiment were larger than those allowed to other Provincial troops, and this was the cause of much discontent. Many petitions were forwarded to the Governor to have other regiments placed on the same footing.

The King's instructions of 1783 directed allotments of land to be made to Loyalists and to such officers of the Provincial troops and to such non-commissioned officers and privates of the King's forces in general as might be reduced in the Province of Quebec, and should be willing immediately to settle upon and improve the said lands, in the following proportions:

Every Field Officer.....	1,000 acres.
Every Captain.....	700 "
Every Subaltern, Staff or Warrant Officer.....	500 "
Every Non-Commissioned Officer.....	200 "
Every Private Man.....	100 "

Every Loyalist, being the master of a family, 100 acres, exclusive of 50 acres for each person of which the family of such officer, non-commissioned officer, private or Loyalist should consist, and fifty acres for every single Loyalist.

Any members of the corps known and distinguished by the name of the Corps of Associated Loyalists as might take refuge in the Province of Quebec were entitled to the same allotments. U. E. Loyalists were to receive their grants free of all expense.

In 1785 a petition was forwarded to the King entitled "The Petition of Sir John Johnson and others on behalf of the Loyalists settled in Canada," asking to have their lands granted them in Free and Common Soccage.

On the 4th June, 1787, the following instructions were issued to the Deputy Surveyor General by Lord Dorchester:

“ For the encouragement of such settlers, who besides supporting their former characters for loyalty to the King and attachment to the British Government, and a peaceable decent deportment have, by their industry, in improving and cultivating the lands already assigned them, given cause to presume that they will be good and profitable subjects, you are to add to every head of a family of that description two hundred acres, exclusive of what is allowed to the other members of it severally by the Royal instructions.”

On the 24th July, 1788, Lord Dorchester by proclamation set apart five new districts, viz., Gaspe, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Nassau, and Hesse. This arrangement was altered after the separation of Upper and Lower Canada, when Lunenburg became the Eastern District, Mecklenburg the Midland, Nassau the Home, and Hesse the Western District.

By rules and regulations for the conduct of the Land Office Department, issued from the Council Chamber, Quebec, 7th February, 1789, the Land Boards were appointed or were authorized to be appointed by the Governor, for the more easy accommodation of persons desirous of forming immediate settlements on the waste lands of the Crown. These Boards were empowered to receive applications until 1st May, 1791, only, unless continued by a new appointment. They were to hold stated and periodical meetings, made publicly known, to give free and easy access to petitioners and to examine into their loyalty, character and pretensions, and to take sufficient and satisfactory proofs by affidavit, deposition or otherwise.

The safety and propriety of admitting the petitioner to become an inhabitant of this Province, being well ascertained to the satisfaction of the Board, they were to administer to every such person the oaths of fidelity and allegiance directed by law, after which the Board was to give every such petitioner a certificate to the Surveyor-General or any person authorized to act as an agent or Deputy Surveyor for the district, expressing the ground of the petitioner's admission; and such agent was, within two days after the presentation of the certificate to assign the petitioner a single lot of about 200 acres, but the said certificate was to have no effect if the petitioner should not enter upon the location, and begin the improvements and cultivation thereof within one year from the date of such assignment, or if the petitioner should have had lands assigned to him before that time in any other part of the Province.

The Surveyor-General was to confine himself in the locations to be made by him to such lands only as were fit for common husbandry, to prevent individuals from monopolizing such spots as contained mines, minerals, fossils and conveniences for mills and other singular advantages of a common and public nature, and he was to reserve all such spots, together with all such as might be fit and useful for ports and harbors or works of defence, or such as contained valuable timber for shipbuilding or other purposes, conveniently situated for water carriage, in the hands of the Crown. A special Order-in-Council was declared necessary to pledge the faith of the Government for granting any such spots as were reserved.

The dimensions of every inland township were to be ten miles square, and such as were situated on a navigable river or water should have a front of nine miles and twelve miles in depth.

The town plot in every township was to be one mile square, in an inland township it should be situated in the centre, and in a township upon a navigable river or water, it was to be in the centre of the front bordering upon the river or water. Every town lot was to contain 1 acre more or less; every town park lot was to contain 24 acres more or less, and every farm lot 200 acres more or less. There was to be a public square or a parade in the centre of the town containing 4 acres more or less, and four more public squares or parades of the like extent at equal and convenient distances from the centre. A square of 4 acres, more or less, was also to be reserved on each side of the centre square for places of Divine worship. A square of 4 acres more or less was to be reserved at each of the four corners of the town plot for a common burying ground, hospital, etc. Four squares of 4 acres each more or less were to be reserved for a market place at the four extremities of the town in a line with and at equal distances from the four corners. The eight principal streets leading from the centre square were to be 96 feet wide, all the other streets 60 feet wide. All the squares were to be open at the angles or corners. The area of half a mile more or less in depth surrounding the town was to be reserved for works of defence, if necessary, or such other disposition as might be thought proper at a future period. One town park was to be reserved for a minister and one for a school-master, adjoining each other. Two farm lots were to be reserved for a minister and one for a school-master. In each of the four corners of every inland township 8 farm lots adjoining each other were to be reserved in the hands of the Crown.

In each of the four corners of every township situated upon a navigable river or water, 10 farm lots adjoining each other were to be reserved in the hands of the Crown.

The roads in every township were to be 60 feet wide, and all roads and streets were to intersect each other at right angles.

The Boards were to observe the following order in providing spaces for the general convenience of the townships :

1. One or more place or places for the public worship of God.
2. A common burying ground.
3. One parsonage house.
4. A common school house.
5. A town park for one minister.
6. A town park for one schoolmaster, common to the town.
7. A glebe for one minister.
8. A glebe for one schoolmaster, common to the town.
9. The court or town house.
10. The prison.
11. The poor or workhouse.
12. A market place.

The Board was not to give certificates for more than one town lot of one acre, or one town and one town park of 24 acres together to the same person (being the head of a family), and this only on condition of his building a dwelling-house on such town lot and occupying the same within a year, and in case of competition to give the preference to the party for whose trade and occupation, the lots, on account of the situation near the water, might be best calculated, and to such sober and industrious mechanics whose trades were most necessary to the township in general. Town parks were not to be granted separately from town lots.

The following is an extract from a letter of the Land Board of the Midland District, dated 7th November, 1792 :

"The lands in Upper Canada were originally distributed under the idea that they were to be held subject to the same feudal burthens, as the other lands held under grants from the French king, in the Province of Quebec, and on this supposition, during the administration of General Hope, an order was published in his name pointing out particular spots for the site of mills, and forbidding their erection in any other places, or on any other terms than, that at the expiration of fifteen years, they should be given up in good repair to the use of His Majesty, his heirs and successors. This having given great uneasiness and created much discontent among the inhabitants, His Excellency Lord Dorchester, after repeated assurances that they should have their lands on the same terms by which they were held by their fellow-subjects in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, was pleased to publish an extract of a letter from the Right Hon. Lord Sidney, one of His Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, dated Whitehall, 3rd September, 1788, as follows :

"Your Lordship will, however, understand that it is the King's intention that the new settlers in that part of the Province (meaning the district west of Point au Baudet) who now hold their lands upon certificates of occupation, shall, at all events, be placed upon the same footing in all respects as their brethren in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, by having their lands granted to them in free and common soccage, with a remission of quit rents for the first ten years."

To show the esteem in which the Loyalists were held, I give an extract from the proceedings in Council at Quebec, on the 9th November, 1789.

His Lordship (Lord Dorchester) intimated to the Council that it remained a question, upon the late regulations for the disposition of the waste lands of the Crown, whether the Board constituted for that purpose were authorized to make locations to the sons of Loyalists, on their coming to full age, and that it was his wish to put a mark of honour upon the families who had adhered to the unity of the Empire, and joined the Royal Standard in America before the treaty of separation in 1783.

The Council concurring with His Lordship, "it is accordingly ordered, that the several land boards take course for preserving a registry of the names of all persons falling under the description aforementioned, to the end that their posterity may be discriminated from future settlers, in the parish Registers and Rolls of the Militia of their respective districts, and other public remembrances of the Province, as proper objects, by their persevering in the fidelity and conduct so honourable to their ancestors, for distinguished benefits and privileges."

And it was also ordered, "That the said land boards may in every such case, provide not only for the sons of those Loyalists, as they arrive at full age, but for their daughters also of that age, or on their marriage, assigning to each a lot of two hundred acres more or less; provided, nevertheless, that they respectively comply with the general regulations, and that it shall satisfactorily appear, that there has been no fault in the due cultivation and improvements of the lands already assigned to the head of the family of which they are members."

In 1791 The Constitutional Act was passed dividing the Province of Quebec into two separate Provinces, to be called the Provinces of Upper Canada and Lower Canada. The Governor was authorized to issue a proclamation dividing the Province of Upper Canada into districts, or counties, or circles, and towns or townships, and might be authorized to make allotments of land for the support of a Protestant clergy in each province, and to erect parsonages or rectories according to the establishment of the Church of England, and endow them. The Act also provided that all lands which should be thereafter granted within the Province of Upper Canada should be granted in free and common socage. It provided further that any person holding lands in Upper Canada by virtue of any certificate of occupation derived under the authority of the Governor and Council of the Province of Quebec, might surrender the same to His Majesty, by petition to the Governor setting forth that he was desirous of holding the land in free and common socage. The Governor was thereupon to cause a fresh grant to be made to such person, of such lands, in free and common socage.

The following were the members of the first land boards appointed by Lord Dorchester in 1788-9:

DISTRICT OF HESSE: Farnham Olose, Esq., Major in 65th Regiment of Foot, or the Officer Commanding at Detroit, William Dummer Powell, Esq., Duperon Baby, Esq., Alexander McKee, Esq., William Robertson, Esq., Alexander Grant, Esq., Adhemar de St Martin, Esq., or any three of them to be a quorum for the business intrusted to the whole Board in, and for the District of Hesse.

NASSAU: Lieut.-Col. Hunter or Officer Commanding, Lieut.-Col. Butler, Peter Tnbrook, Esq., R. Hamilton, Esq., Benjamin Pawling, Esq., Nath. Pettit, Esq.

MECKLENBURGH: Rev. John Stuart, Neil McLean, Esq., James Clarke, Esq., Richard Cartwright, jr., Esq., the Officer Commanding for the time being.

LUNEBURG: Richard Duncan, Esq., John MacDonell, Esq., Jeremiah French, Esq., Justus Sherwood, Esq., James Gray, Esq., John Munro, Esq.

While at Quebec waiting for the arrival of a quorum of his councillors, Lieut.-Governor Simcoe issued the following proclamation signed by himself and Thos. Talbot, Acting Secretary. As this was Governor Simcoe's first official act I give the proclamation in full.

A PROCLAMATION.

To such as are desirous to settle on the lands of the Crown in the Province of Upper Canada.

By His Excellency, JOHN GRAVES SIMCOE, Esquire, Lieutenant-Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the said Province, and Colonel Commanding His Majesty's forces, etc., etc., etc.

Be it known to all concerned, that His Majesty hath by His Royal Commission and instructions to the Governor, and in His absence to the Lieutenant-Governor or person administering the Government for the time being of the said Province of Upper Canada, given authority and command to grant the lands of the Crown in the same by patent under the Great Seal thereof; and it being expedient to publish and declare the Royal intention respecting such grants and patents, I do accordingly hereby make known the terms of grant and settlement to be:

1st. That the Crown lands to be granted be parcel of a township,—if an inland township, of ten miles square, and if a township on navigable waters, of nine miles in front and twelve miles in depth, to be run out and marked by His Majesty's Surveyor or Deputy Surveyor General, or under his sanction and authority.

2nd. That only such part of the township be granted as shall remain after a reservation of one-seventh part thereof, for the support of a Protestant clergy, and one other seventh part thereof, for the future disposition of the Crown.

3rd. That no farm lot shall be granted to any one person which shall contain more than two hundred acres; yet the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor or person administering the Government, is allowed and permitted to grant to any person or persons such further quantity of land as they may desire, not exceeding one thousand acres over and above what may have been before granted to them.

4th. That every petitioner for lands, make it appear that he or she is in a condition to cultivate and improve the same, and shall besides taking the usual oaths, subscribe a declaration (before proper persons to be for that purpose appointed) of the tenor of the words following, viz: "I, A. B., do promise and declare that I will maintain and defend to the utmost of my power the authority of the King in His parliament as the supreme legislature of this Province."

5th. That applications for grants be made by petition to the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, or person administering the Government for the time being, and where it is advisable to grant the prayer thereof a warrant shall issue to the proper officer for a survey thereof, returnable within six months with a plot annexed, and be followed with a patent granting the same, if desired, in free and common soccage, upon the terms and conditions in the Royal Instructions expressed, and hereinafter suggested.

6th. That all grants reserve to the Crown all coals, commonly called sea coals, and mines of gold, silver, copper, tin, iron and lead; and each patent contain a clause for the reservation of timber for the Royal Navy of the tenor following:

"And provided also, that no part of the tract or parcel of land hereby granted to the said _____ and his heirs, be within any reservation heretofore made and marked for us, our heirs and successors by our Surveyor-General of Woods, or his lawful Deputy; in which case, this our grant for such part of the land hereby given and granted to the said _____ and his heirs forever as aforesaid, and which shall upon a survey thereof being made, be found within any such reservation, shall be null and void, anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding."

7th. That the two-sevenths reserved for the Crown's future disposition, and the support of a Protestant clergy, be not severed tracts each of one-seventh part of the township, but such lots or farms therein, as in the Surveyor General's return of the survey of the township, shall be described as set apart for these purposes, between the other farms of which the said township shall consist, to the intent that the lands so to be reserved may be nearly of the like value with an equal quantity of the other parts to be granted out as aforementioned.

8th. That the respective patentees are to take the estates granted to them severally free of quit rent and of any other expenses, than such fees as are or may be allowed to be demanded and received by the different officers concerned in passing the patent and recording the same, to be stated in a table authorized and established by the Government and publicly fixed up in the several offices of the Clerk of the Council, of the Surveyor General, and of the Secretary of the Province.

9th. That every patent be entered upon record within six months from the date thereof, in the secretary's or registrar's offices, and a docket thereof in the auditor's office.

10th. Whenever it shall be thought advisable to grant any given quantity to one person of one thousand acres or under, and the same cannot be found by reason of the said reservations and prior grants within the township in the petition expressed, the same, or what shall be requisite to make up to such person the quantity advised, shall be located to him in some other township, upon a new petition for that purpose to be preferred.

And of the said regulations, all persons concerned are to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Given under my hand and seal in the City of Quebec, the seventh day of February, in the thirty-second year of His Majesty's reign, and in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-two.

Essex, Kent and so much of this Province as is not included in any other district thereof shall be the Western District.

On 20th October, 1818, an Order-in Council was passed that no grant of land would be issued in future to persons of any description until a satisfactory certificate was filed in the Surveyor General's office that a habitable house had been erected on some part of the land to be granted, and a sufficient clearing thereon under fence, in the proportion of five acres per hundred.

At the Council held in the council chamber at York on Saturday, 13th of March, 1819, at which the following were present: His Excellency Sir P. Maitland, K. C. B., Lieutenant-Governor; the Hon. William Dummer Powell, Chief Justice; the Hon. James Baby, the Hon. and Reverend Doctor John Strachan, the following order was passed :—

"Whereas great inconvenience accrues to emigrants desirous to become settlers in this province from the necessity of presenting themselves at York before they can obtain a location on the waste lands of the Crown, for remedy therefor His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council, is pleased to appoint in each of the districts certain persons to form a board with power to locate any emigrant or other person desirous to become a settler in the respective districts on a lot of 100 acres within the same, under such limitations, restrictions and rules as from time to time may be made for the government of the said land boards by any Order-in-Council "

Under the foregoing regulations, all persons who had served in the Colonial Corps during the revolutionary war with America were entitled, and I think I may say received, grants of land according to their rank. Those who had not borne arms previous to 1783, but came into the country at the peace, were entitled to a grant of 200 acres or so much more as the size of their family or the extent of their means would justify. These latter, U. E. Loyalists and their sons and daughters born or to be born, received a grant of 200 acres on coming of age. Every Executive Councillor received a grant of 5,000 acres free of conditions except the payment of a small fee, and his children received 1,200 acres each. Grants not exceeding 1,200 acres were, at the discretion of the Governor and Council made to clergymen, magistrates and barristers free from conditions; in fact almost anybody could receive a 1,200 acre grant upon payment of the fee. Grants amounting to 48,520 acres were made to Colonel Talbot as a compensation for having settled 240 settlers upon 12,000 acres. Twelve thousand acres were granted to the heirs of General Brock and twelve thousand acres to the Bishop of Quebec. Two hundred and sixty four thousand one hundred and eighty acres were granted to surveyors or persons contracting for the survey of townships in lieu of money payments. Large blocks of land were also purchased from the Indians. For instance, the Township of Woolrich (over 86,000 acres) by Mr. Wallace; the Township of Dumfries (over 94,000 acres) by Mr. Steadman; the Township of Nichol (28,500 acres) by Hon. Thos. Clark; the Township of Waterloo (upwards of 94,000 acres) by Richard Beasley; a block of 30,800 acres by Mr. Jarvis, Provincial Secretary, and a block of 19,000 acres by Mr. Dochstetter. These purchases were all confirmed by the Home Government.

As for the U. E. grants instead of being settled upon by the grantees, by far the largest proportion was sold to speculators, the consideration being from a gallon of rum up to £6. The Hon. Robert Hamilton purchased about 100,000 acres.

On 14th December, 1819, an Order-in-Council was passed from which I extract the following:—

"Whereas it is desirable to alleviate the situation of the poorer classes of settlers by an exemption from any charge on the Patent Fee, and also to remove all obstacles from the more free accommodation of others with larger grants than have been usually made, His Excellency, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council has been pleased to order that the first mentioned class of settlers may receive a gratuitous grant of fifty acres under exclusion from any further grant from the Crown, but with liberty to lease the Reserves."

A special commission was appointed by Lord Bathurst in 1825 to value the lands which the Government had agreed to sell to the Canada Company. The commission consisted of Lieut. Col. Francis Cockburn, Simon McGillivray, Lt. Col. Sir John Harvey, K.C., K.C.B., John Galt and John Davidson.

The Act 6th George IV., cap. 75, empowered the Government to sell one-half of the Clergy Reserves of Upper Canada to the Canada Company. This was changed by the arrangement made by the Colonial Office, Downing Street, in 1826, as follows:—

"It appearing from the award of the commissioners that the Clergy Reserves valued by them, comprise 829,430 acres, and those lands being valued at 3s. 6d. current money of Upper Canada, per acre, the Canada Company would have to pay to His Majesty's Government the sum of £145,150.5s., current money of Upper Canada, if those Clergy Reserves had been conveyed to them. In lieu of these 829,430 acres His Majesty's Government will grant to the Canada Company for the same amount a block of land containing 1,000,000 acres in the territory lately purchased from the Indians in the London and Western Districts." One-third of the amount was to be expended in public improvements and the balance paid to the Government, churches, school houses, wharves, canals, bridges and high roads to be understood as improvements. The Canada Company's total purchases from the Government were 2,484,413 acres.

In 1838 the number of acres surveyed in Upper Canada was given as 17,000,000 in round numbers. The quantity located, or described, or for which there was authority to grant in the Land Office was as follows:

For U.E. Loyalists.....	3,206,989 acres.
For Militia.....	730,709 "
Granted to discharged soldiers and seamen.....	449,400 "
Granted to magistrates and barristers.....	255,500 "
Granted to clergymen of different denominations.....	36,900 "
Granted to executive councillors and their families.....	142,960 "
Granted to legislative councillors and their families.....	49,475 "

On 5th November, 1823, an Order-in-Council was passed by which a township was to be set apart and placed under the superintendence of Archibald McNab, of McNab, for settlement. Before locating his settlers he required them to sign a location ticket as follows:

"I, Archibald McNab, of McNab, do hereby locate you, James Carmichael, upon the rear half of the 16th lot of the 11th concession of McNab upon the following terms and conditions; that is to say, I hereby bind myself, my heirs and successors to give you the said land free of any quit rent for three years from this date, as also to procure you a patent for the same at your expense, upon your having done the settlement duties, and your granting me as a mortgage upon said lands, that you will yearly thereafter pay to me, my heirs and successors for ever, one bushel of wheat or Indian corn, or oats or like value, for every cleared acre upon the said lot of land in name of quit rent for the same, in the month of January in each year. Your subscribing to these conditions being binding upon you to fulfil the terms thereof."

"Signed and sealed by us at Kennell Lodge this 12th day of August, 1825.

"ARCHIBALD McNAB,
"JAMES OARMICHAEL."

McNab apparently received his quit rents for sixteen years; when an Order in Council was passed ordering him to give to the Government all undelivered patents and his patent for timber; that the settlers were to receive their lands on a valuation made by Mr. Francis Allen, a special commissioner, that all labor performed for and all rents paid to McNab were to be deducted for these payments for patents and the same to be withheld from the money coming to McNab from the Government.

McNab at first claimed £9,000 for a surrender of all claims, but agreed to accept £4,000 and the lots already patented to him. He received the first instalment of £1,000 and when the deductions afore-mentioned were made his claim for £4,000 was reduced to about £2,500.

On the 21st November, 1825, an Order in Council was passed embodying the following rules and regulations for the granting of lands.

"A valuation will be forthwith made of the lands throughout the colony, and average prices will be struck for each district.

"All the lands in the colony, not hitherto granted and appropriated for public purposes, will be offered for sale at the average prices thus fixed.

"The purchase money is to be paid by four quarterly or five annual instalments, as the party applying may desire, but in the latter case legal interest shall be charged. Ten per cent. will be allowed for ready money payments.

"On payment of the money, a grant will be made in fee simple to the purchaser, at the expense of the Crown, with the usual reservations of mines and minerals and of the white pine timber.

"The largest quantity of land to be sold to any individual is 10,000 acres; and when put up to sale, it will be offered in such tracts, not less than 100 acres, as may be directed. Persons wishing more extensive purchases, must apply in writing through the Lieutenant Governor in Council, to His Majesty's principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, with full explanations of their objects and means.

"Lands may also be obtained without purchase, but upon different conditions.

"The largest grant that will be made without purchase is 1,200 acres. The smallest 100 acres.

"No grant will be made to any person without purchase unless the Government is satisfied that the grantee has both the power and the intention of expending in the cultivation of lands a capital equal to half the estimated value; or, in case the grant do not exceed 200 acres, that he intends to reside upon or improve the same.

"A quit rent of £5 per cent. per annum, upon the estimated value, will be fixed upon the land granted without purchase.

"The quit rent will be redeemable within the first 25 years next following the grant, on payment of a sum equal to twenty times the annual amount of it.

"Until the expiration of the first seven years next succeeding each grant without purchase no quit rent will become due upon the lands comprised in it.

"Every grantee, without purchase, must at the expiration of the before-mentioned seven years prove to the satisfaction of the Lieutenant Governor in Council that he has expended in the cultivation and improvement of his land a capital equal to half its value, as that value was estimated at the time of his grant, or in case the grant shall not exceed 200 acres that he has during that time resided on and improved his land; on failure of such proof his claim to the land shall be forfeited, and the same may be granted to another applicant. It is to be understood, however, that if at any time within that period the condition of expenditure and cultivation shall have been complied with the patent may immediately issue.

"U. E. Loyalists and other persons entitled to gratuitous grants by the general regulations of His Majesty's Government are not to be affected by these rules."

The first sales of Olergy lands took place in 1829, and were by auction, one-tenth of the purchase money being payable in cash and the remainder in nine equal annual instalments with interest. Prior to that date these lands were leased for a term of twenty-one years, the rent of a 200-acre lot for the first seven years being ten shillings per annum, or three bushels of good sweet, clean merchantable wheat (at the option and election of the Crown); during the second seven years £1, or six bushels of like wheat, and during the third term of seven years £1 10s., or nine bushels of like wheat.

The Olergy lands were afterwards valued and sold with Crown lands, but always on the terms as stated above. These lands were secularized by Act of the Canadian Parliament in 1854. Later enactments dealt with the use which should be made of the funds derived from such sales.

A general order was issued by the Horse Guards in 1831 to the effect that officers of the army wishing to become settlers should, like all other individuals, procure lands by purchase at public sales, but would be entitled to a remission of the purchase money to the following amounts :—

Officers who have served	20 years and upwards	a remission of	..	300	0	0
"	"	15	"	..	250	0 0
"	"	10	"	..	200	0 0
"	"	7 years and less than 10	"	..	150	0 0

The same indulgences were granted to the officers of the navy in 1832.

In 1833 U. E. Loyalists and militia were denied deeds for their lands except on condition of actual settlement and occupation for two years, but if they proved the impossibility of going upon their lands they were to be granted a location ticket for their location, entitling them to the price of the land when sold at a public sale.

In 1831 Lord Goderich wrote to Sir John Colborne respecting the disposal of Crown lands. He says :—

"I am of opinion, after having consulted those who are the most competent to give an opinion on the subject, that some of the clauses by which the Commissioner of Crown Lands is now governed are liable to considerable objection."

In regard to the quit rent of 5 per cent. on the estimated value, he says : "I altogether disapprove of this system, and I desire that the practice may be immediately discontinued." Lord Goderich further stated that no free grants of land would be given to any person whatever in future, with the exception of military settlers, and he requested Sir John Colborne not to forward any application for free grants to him.

New rules were then laid down, as follows :

"The lands to be laid out in lots of 100 acres.

"Notice to be given in the Gazette, and in any other manner that circumstances will admit of, of the time and place appointed for the sale of lands in each District and of the upset price. If no offer made, the lands to be reserved for a future sale by auction.

"The purchase money to be paid down, or by four instalments, with interest. The first at the time of sale, the second, third and fourth at intervals of half a year.

"If the instalments are not paid regularly the deposit money will be forfeited, and the land again referred to sale.

"Public notice to be given in each District every year of the persons in arrear, and if not paid before the commencement of the next sale these lots to be the first put up to auction."

The Commissioner of Crown Lands was informed by letter from Colonel Rowan in 1832 that U. E. Loyalists' rights would not be acknowledged by the Executive Government unless the applicant who petitioned for the grant was the person entitled to it.

In 1839 a Commission was appointed to enquire into the state of the Public Offices. The Surveyor General was examined in regard to the work of his office, and was requested to give his opinion in regard to the land-granting system. He closes his remarks as follows : "In conclusion, I cannot help remarking that the system upon which lands have been granted was the greatest prostitution of a Sovereign's bounty ever practised in any country. The intentions of the Sovereign will evidently appear from the instructions given for the settlement of the country wise and guarded, but the system pursued was corrupt. Actual settlement was required upon the grants, but the influence of 'interest obtained for individuals, whose claims could not exceed 200 acres, large grants to themselves and families, dead parents as well as infants who never lived to walk out of their cradles had Orders in Council passed in their names and their families eventually obtained the lands.'

In 1838 under the new Land Act no free grants of land were allowed to any person or persons whomsoever except U. E. Loyalists and their children, or other persons who were at the passage of the Act entitled under some Order in Council or regulation. Those entitled to free grants could select them in any of the Districts on such lands as were open for location. This was a departure from the old regulation which settled the military in certain Districts called military settlements.

Under this Act no public lands were to be sold by private sale except they should have been first offered at public auction at an upset price, and the Governor in Council was authorized to appoint persons in each District to be resident agents for the sale of public lands. As soon as the purchase money was paid the purchaser should be entitled to his patent.

In 1840-41 to establish Grammar Schools about 750,000 acres were set apart. Of this King's College (Toronto University) received 225,944 acres and Upper Canada College 66,000 acres.

UNION OF UPPER AND LOWER CANADA.

In 1842 another Land Act was passed the provisions of which were shortly as follows :—

Claims to free grants to be determined by the Governor in Council.

No new claim to be admitted after 1st January, 1843, unless the claimant was a minor on that day,

All claims under Order in Council or any regulation now in force and allowed by Governor in Council to be commuted for land scrip, or orders for nominal sums of money. Scrip to be received as money on all sales of Crown lands not set apart for a specific purpose. (This precluded scrip from being taken in payment of Clergy and School lands.)

The price of land to be fixed from time to time by the Governor in Council.

Free grants of 50 acres may be made in the vicinity of any public road in the new settlements to actual settlers.

Lands on which moneys remain unpaid or settlement duties unperformed to be forfeited at the end of two years from the passing of the Act.

Lands in arrears for one or more instalments to be advertised and sold.

In the year 1850 an Act was passed setting apart one million acres of land to raise an income of £100,000 a year for the support of Common Schools. These lands were sold at 12s. 6d. per acre, one tenth cash, and the balance in nine equal annual instalments with interest. The price was subsequently reduced to 10s. an acre.

The prices fixed for Crown lands in 1852 was 7s. 6d. an acre west of the Counties of Durham and Victoria, and east of the County of Victoria at 4s. per acre.

The Land Act of 1853 provided that no claims for land not then located should be entertained, whether from Militia, U. E. Loyalist, or Military Rights. The Governor by Order in Council was authorized to fix the price of the public lands and the terms of settlement and payment. The Governor in Council might appropriate as free grants any public lands in the Province to actual settlers in the vicinity of any public road in the new settlements, but no free grant was to exceed 100 acres. The Governor in Council was also authorized to appropriate one-fourth of the proceeds of School lands, and one-fifth of the proceeds of unappropriated Crown lands as a fund for public improvements.

In the year 1853 the Act, 16 Vic. cap. 153, was passed, section 4 of which provided that no person should be held qualified to vote at any election as the owner, or as the occupant or tenant of any real property, on which any instalment of purchase money, or any rent or other sum of money which he might have undertaken to pay to the Crown therefor, should be overdue and unpaid.

By the Regulations of 1859 Crown lands were to be sold at 70 cents per acre cash, or $1.00 per acre, one-fifth cash and the balance in four annual instalments with interest, all lands to be subject to settlement duties, and no patent (even though the land should be paid for in full at the time of purchase) to issue to any person who should not have taken possession within six months from the time of sale, and have been a bona fide occupant, and within four years at farthest have 10 acres under crop in every hundred.

The Land Act of 1860 provided that all land scrip and certificates must be presented and established in the Office of the Commissioner of Crown Lands before the 1st day of January, 1862.

The Canadian Land and Emigration Company in the year 1861 purchased ten Townships from the Government. The Townships were Dysart, Dudley, Harcourt, Harburn, Guilford, Bruton, Havelock, Eyre, Clyde and Longford, containing 403,125 acres, deducting therefrom 41,000 acres for swamp. The price was 50 cents an acre, being $181,062.50, one-tenth of which the Company was allowed to expend on roads. The area subject to settlement duties was 261,544 acres, 1/9th to be settled within 3 years from date of agreement ; 5/9ths to be settled within 10 years ; the whole to be settled within 15 years.

CONFEDERATION.

The year after Confederation an Act was passed by the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, entitled : An Act to secure Free Grants and Homesteads to actual settlers on Public Lands.

Section 4 of this Act provides that the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may appropriate any public lands considered suitable for settlement and cultivation, and not being mineral lands or pine timber lands, as free grants to actual settlers, under such regulations as may from time to time be made by Order in Council, not inconsistent with the provisions of the Act.

Patents are not to issue until the expiration of five years from the date of location, and not then unless 15 acres have been put under cultivation and a habitable house, 16 x 20 feet, erected, and the locatee shall have actually resided upon the land for the five years, on failure in performance of these settlement duties the location to be forfeited.

All pine trees growing or being upon land so located, and all gold, silver, copper, lead, iron or other mines are reserved, but the locatee may cut all trees necessary for fencing, building and fuel, and may also cut and dispose of all trees required to be removed in actually clearing his land for cultivation. All trees remaining on the land at the time the patent issues, pass to the patentee.

In the year 1868 there were 15 townships opened, and up to the year 1899, 163 townships had been placed under the operation of this Act. The sole male or female head of a family with children under 18 years of age may be located for 200 acres ; but the quantity of land to be located to any male without children under 18 is 100 acres ; but in case he has not, by reason of water, rock or swamp 100 acres that can be made available for farming purposes, the quantity may be increased to any number of acres not exceeding 200, so as to make 100 acres of farming land. Any locatee, being the male head of a family, may purchase an additional 100 acres at 50 cents an acre.

In the year 1868 (the year of the inauguration of the system of free grants) there were 46,000 acres located ; in the second year there were 56,000 acres ; in the third year 155,000 ; and so on down to 1899, when the total number of locations made by the Department for the 31 years reached 4,012,378. Of course some of these have been cancelled for non-compliance with the requirements of the Free Grants' Act ; but no system of either sales or free grants can possibly be fenced with regulations that will prevent parties, who are so inclined, attempting to evade the law. The timber on the land being the temptation to these people to seek location ; if they cannot be located they will try squatting and proceed to cut and dispose of the timber as quickly as possible, thus depriving the Government of the timber dues and the lumberman of his property when the land is held under timber license. During the same time, between 1868 and 1899, there were 119,834 acres sold to locatees.

The general provisions of the Free Grants and Homesteads Act before given, apply also to free grants in the Rainy River District, with these minor differences : The limit of a Rainy River free grant is 160 acres. The male head of a family, or the sole female head of a family, having a child or children under 18 residing with him or her, may locate 160 acres, and may also purchase an additional 80 acres at $1 per acre.

A male of 18, without children, may locate for 120 acres, and may purchase an additional 80 acres at $1 per acre.

The conditions of settlement, as regards cultivation and the erection of a house, are the same as in other free grant districts, but the length of occupation is only three years.

An amendment was made to the Free Grants and Homesteads Acts in 1880 by which it was enacted that Patents for lands located or sold after the passing of this amendment should contain a reservation of the pine and a proportion of the dues received by the Crown on the pine taken from the land should be paid to the patentee.

About 50 townships have been opened for sale under settlement conditions since Confederation, the sales in which have averaged over 60,000 acres a year at prices varying from 50 cents to $2 per acre.

In 1872 an Act was passed by the Legislative Assembly authorizing an inspection of all the lands in the Province sold prior to Confederation for which patents had not issued with a view to a reduction in the price of those lots which were reported as having been sold at a price above their real value. These inspections took place, and in accordance with the reports of the inspectors reductions were made in the price of the lands sold in nearly all the old townships in Ontario and an abatement in the interest was also granted.

In this paper I have endeavored to trace, as far as time would permit, a history of the laws and regulations which have governed the disposition of public land in Upper and Lower Canada, and the various changes and amendments which have taken place therein. It will be seen that one of the basic principles of the land-granting system which has been pursued in Canada from the earliest times has been the residence of the grantee or purchaser on his land, and the clearing and improvement thereof. This was one of the prime conditions of the old Seigniorial grants which distinguished Canadian feudalism from the feudalism of Europe, Seignior and Censitaire alike being compelled to put so much of their holdings in a cultivable condition within a specified time on pain of forfeit. The principle has been in practice ever since down to the present day. Of course in the early days, when land had very little value, there were many prostitutions of it, but still it has held, and is to-day the only condition upon which public land can be acquired, in the Province of Ontario.

Many other subjects, such as a history of the timber trade, the clergy lands, the Indian treaties, which have all been under the jurisdiction of the old Land Office, (or as it is now called, the Department of Crown Lands), could be taken up and incorporated in a paper of this kind; but each of these topics is worthy of separate treatment, and their importance could not be fairly estimated had I attempted to include them within the scope of this paper.

NOTE.—In addition to the large grants mentioned on page 16 it might be well to state that Governor Simcoe proposed to hand over several townships to various prominent individuals for settlement. Some ten townships in all were thus granted, when the number of applications became so large (50 it is said) that the Government rescinded this order and instead offered to each of the nominees 1,200 acres for himself and the same amount for every member of his family. All accepted, except Berezy who had undertaken the settlement of Markham, and who claimed to have spent $60,000 in his work. (See Evidence in Lord Durham's Report.)

Table shewing the distribution of full and half fees and survey fees, to be paid to the Crown, and to the officers of the Land Granting Department, on all grants of land from a town lot to one thousand acres inclusive, under the various regulations from the commencement of the Government of Upper Canada on the 8th July, 1792, being the day Lieutenant-Governor Simcoe was sworn in until the 6th March, 1830.
